School board

be amended to include exceptions of the board wishes to do.
Hopkins said.
Board member David said that if they don't make the exception, then they face the possibility the girl may sue the school board.
Heid confirmed the girl has sued the school board and asked for an alternative but she has only three more required credit hours to graduate.

He described her as an above average student and, when asked, recommended the board make some sort of exception to the policy for students with children.
Last year we had another student in exactly the same type of circumstances. Under the old policy, we allowed her out of the last period of the old policy, this situation is not uncommon here.
However, though board members all agreed they did not want the girl, or any student, for that matter, to drop out, they were concerned they made one exception, what about other students facing different hardships which are just as difficult to manage.
However, they have moved to a new home on Lower East Union Road which sits on the border between Bath and Nicholas County.

Appreciation was expressed to Don Adams for his diligent research and genealogy research for each of us.
Descendants and guests attending for the first time were: C.M. and Ruth Day, Ann Griffith, Buddy McKinney, Stan Pizer, Kenny Adams Plarier, Connie Adams
Margaret Boy Lane and Fred Lane, and David Harrison.
Don urged all to "fork out" the assembling of yearbooks regarding, remove not the landmarks of your forefathers; and honor your heritage as you frequently say "I wish I could see my father and my mother again."
