A Letter From Saudi

Dear Carlisle Mercury:
Hopefully this letter will make it to your office. It is sometimes difficult for me to find time to write due to the nature of my job.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to family and friends. Words are not enough to thank everyone for the thoughts and support since I was sent to operate in this deployment.

It was also told that people were showing their support by flying or posting yellow ribbons as a sign of their support and care.

It makes me feel very proud to be a resident of this community. It is people like you that makes myself, along with my team, and other soldiers deployed to this environment proud to serve for our country and protect our freedom and privileges and the people most importantly.

Again I wish to express my sincere gratitude and thanks, it means very much to have everyone's support.

Hopefully this crises will stop before it starts, but I am prepared and trained to accept the worst.

I will always remember your concern, thoughts and support. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Joe T. Hardwick

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:
I am glad Toyota is expanding in our area and there are some comments I would like to make. I don't think the rural people from Carlisle to Ashland, Kentucky will gain twenty jobs. I am led to believe of the people who work at Toyota are from the Lexington-Louisville area.

I am for good education, roads, development and all the other projects rural America deserves. There is a question we need to ask. When do we get them?
I would like to ask a question. Why can't we get a good road to connect our area with the rest of the state? At present, we have some gnomes on U.S. 60 and the Paris Pike. There are days you could drive to Ashland

I lobby and it's a real education. I meet people who compare rural people to the peasant population of medieval Europe.
The program seems to be, just keep paying your taxes and hard working people that don't deserve the jobs if they don't stand up for the people.

Collection points are central dumpsters, according to McCoochee, where containers larger than regular dumpsters are used. The system is used by Beatty, Harlan, Madison and Wayne counties in Kentucky and some in southern Indiana and north of Missouri.
To support a landfill and make it economical, we need 200,000 to 250,000 people using it," Nebitt said.
