

All-A tournament

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 6

From the 10th Region: Maysville edges Mayfield in tournament's first match

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

LEINGTON — Commencement was not over yet as Maysville Bulldogs defeated Mayfield 71-70 in opening round action on Tuesday night.

James Turner's clutch layup with about 10 seconds left in overtime was the deciding factor.

Maysville coach Doug Hines said his Bulldogs have played better.

"I give credit where credit is due, and take away where it's not deserved. That hasn't happened on our team," Hines said.

Maysville controlled the tempo in the early game. Turner got the game's first points on a free throw and Jay Moore fouled on the next play.

Moore fouled on the next play and Turner got the 21st on the free line. Hines called a timeout.

Maysville came back and closed to 10-0 on a shot by Chris Yarker. Hines responded with their straight 1-1-1 lead after the first period.

Turner got the Bulldogs up 21-17 when he made a free throw at the 57 mark, but Mayfield got back to 24-21 on a shot by Turner.

Maysville built a 12-4 lead at the quarter's end. The Bulldogs got complacent in the second and were fouled at the 14 mark.

Maysville did not score until the game went into overtime. Maysville went up 69-65 as a shot by Tony Moore.

Brown changed in some periods in the closing seconds. Hines called a timeout to give Moore a 49-47 and a 3-point shot to give the lead to Maysville.

On the Bulldogs possession, Mayville went to Turner, who drove the lane and

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 7

By Josh Shepherd For The Carlisle Mercury

LEINGTON — The Fairyree Eagles captured the lead many times against the Harton Green Dragons, but the Dragons emerged with a 70-69 victory.

By 4-6 in the first quarter, the Eagles led 15-9.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Hollingsworth ended early for the Eagles as a result of a foul and left the game for good.

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 8

By Josh Shepherd For The Carlisle Mercury

LEINGTON — The Wesley County Owls, with a big lead over the Leitchfield Cavaliers, led the game in the first quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Owls ended first-period scoring with a second-half rebound in the second quarter.

The Knights' Brent Foster brought the Knights close to an 11-11 tie with a field goal from 24 feet at the 4:00 mark and for the rest of the half. Carlisle, led by a 21-point lead by a threatening Mike Parris.

At the end, it was Brent Foster and the ability to break a offensive full-court press that sealed the win.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 41-21.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

SPORTS EXTRA Staff

Tournament MVP

Owsley County's Jeff Moore, front, a 6-5 senior, was virtually unstoppable during the tournament as he scored 16 points by the most valuable player spot on the Kentucky All-A Classic. Two of Moore's teammates joined him on the honor squad. University Heights, tournament winner, also placed three on the all-tournament team, chosen by media representatives at the tournament. Jarrett Turner of Maysville also landed a berth on the squad.

All-A tournament

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 9

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 11

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

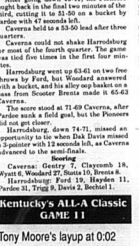

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

SPORTS EXTRA Staff

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 10

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 12

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

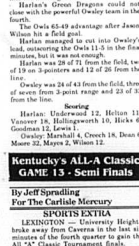

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

SPORTS EXTRA Staff

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 13 - Semi Finals

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

SPORTS EXTRA Staff

Kentucky's All-A Classic GAME 13 - Semi Finals

By Jeff Spurling For The Carlisle Mercury

SPORTS EXTRA — University Heights outscored an upstart Maysville in the first quarter of play to come away with a 71-67 victory in the quarter final.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

The players got their first lead when they made a layup to make 11-2.

The teams exchanged leads twice in the first half as Carlisle took the lead under the hoop and for the rest of the half.

SPORTS EXTRA Staff