said the church is only beginning to regain its membership. Signs of its age and history are still pretty much intact, but work needs to be done on the structure to make it more sound. With an increase in attendance we can begin to make necessary improvements," Gardner said. It boasts a small, but dedicated congregation of concerned members who want to see the church flourish and thrive and Gardner said it has the backing of the general Methodist Church organization behind it. What Jesus Taught By George L. Rogers How should a Christian look at religious division? One must observe that religious... but is not concerned in the Bible. I Cor. 13:2-3, 12:27-28. What many people think to be Christianity and Christianity at all.

The confusion wrought by a failure to follow God's word is responsible for the religious division we should understand full well why men have looked upon the religious world that calls itself "Christianity," and have said in disgust: "This is Christianity, we want none of it." The truth is that such confusion with conglomeration of divided and struggling sects and heresies is not Christianity. Men like Voltaire, Payne, Owen, and Ingersoll did not attack Christianity, they attacked what men called Christianity.

But many things that "great scholars" say are not in harmony with what the Bible says. The Bible is the only book that speaks with such authority on the subject of Christianity. The Bible is the only book that speaks with such authority on the subject of Christianity. The Bible is the only book that speaks with such authority on the subject of Christianity.
