Lady Jackets take third in AAU summer tourney

By Josh Shepherd
The Carlisle Mercury Staff

The Nicholas County Lady Jackets took third place, Saturday, in the AAU summer basketball tournament in Frankfort.

Despite the 16 year old age limit for the tournament, all but one member of the Lady Jackets was eligible to play in the four day tournament.

First on their schedule was the Frankfort A squad, one half of a young Frankfort team in the A pool.

The Jackets jumped out to a quick lead against Frankfort with Tary Earlywine leading first half scoring with 15 points. Kim Denkins slammed in eight points under the boards.

Nikki Smoot went to the foul line three times before the half was up, but had some difficulty putting the ball through, but made up for the deficiency with a several scoring drives in the second quarter to add to the commanding, 49-36 lead the Jackets held over Frankfort at the end of the half.

Frankfort could not muster strength enough to catch the Jackets through the second half. For the first game, the Jackets stood 1-0 with a final score against Frankfort, 88-74.

Smoot and Earlywine broke the 20-point margin with 25 and 22 points, respectively.

The Jackets faced a second challenge in the evening against Garrard County. Freshman starter Kim Denkins led the Jackets under the boards for the first half, bucketing eight shots underneath with two working out to three point plays.

Smoot was again a target for the foul line, this time improving her overall percentage and bringing in one additional three point play.

Kristi Barton and Renee Linvill brought in an additional 10 points to rocket the Jackets to a 40-25 lead by halftime.

However Garrard County began to make up considerable distance in the second half as the Jackets substitute team could not manage a score for a considerable portion of the second half.

As Garrard moved to within four points of overtaking the Jackets, Coach Barbara Kenney re-entered her first team to again establish a dominance across the court. Earlywine, Denkins, Christie Hatton and Smoot slammed six to eight points each through the basket to take their second win and a contender for the top spot in the A pool of the tournament. Denkins took 26 points in the ball game for an overall 76-65 victory.

Friday morning bought one bye for the Jackets when the Salvation Army team out of Lexington had to forfeit their position in the tournament because of too few players, but the afternoon lull was taken up by Clinton County.

Earlywine zipped five through the hoop for a hard fought 10 points in the first half, bolstered by an additional 10 point gain by Smoot. Denkins worked the boards for six points underneath followed by Hatton with a neat five points.

Though Clinton ended the half 13 points behind, 32-19, they came in strong for the second half to challenge the Jackets dominance.

But though Clinton drew within 10 points of catching the Jackets for the lead, Denkins inside game proved too much for them to handle and the Jackets too win three and bought the top spot in their pool.

However, the Pool B loser Madison Central, came in to test the Jacket metal.

The semifinal game decided who would go on to challenge the move for champion of the tournament.

The advantage belonged to Richmond the entire morning because though the Jackets worked well under the boards against Madison, the vast majority of the Lady Jackets failed to clear the rim. 25 foul shot opportunities went unanswered.

At the half, the Jackets trailed by 12 points, but they refused to count themselves out.

By the end of the third and throughout the fourth the Jackets steadily gained ground despite their foul shot problems.

Meanwhile, foul trouble began to plague both teams as four starters from the Madison Central and Nicholas County teams left the court with five fouls each.

Last to go on the Nicholas County side may have cost the Lady Jackets the game as Christie Hatton drew her fifth foul on a controversial charging call beneath the Jackets basket.

As Hatton took to the bench, Madison rolled to a six point win, 78-72, eliminating the Jackets from a championship berth.

Consolation game action was return match with previously defeated Clinton County looking for payback.

Earlywine rolled in the first quarter to lead the Jackets in first quarter scoring with 10 points. But Clinton matched the Jackets shot for shot in the half ending the half out with the Jackets in a tenuous one point lead, 28-27.

Denkins, however, came out in full force after only a six point score in the first half, beat the boards to a pulp with a second half scoring drive of 16 points and a grand total of 23 points in the game.

Though Clinton attempted to keep the pressure on the Jackets, they fell to Nicholas by six points, 68-62, giving the Jackets a third place and Smoot and Denkins named to the all-tournament team.
