PUBLIC NOTICE
The Nicholas County School District has recently prepared an application for the use of federal funds for the education of handicapped children in the Nicholas County School District. This application specifies that a free and appropriate public education will be provided to all handicapped students ages five through twenty-one who are residents of the Nicholas County School District. Public Law 01-142 provides priorities for the expenditure of funds. First priority is given to children who are not receiving any educational services. It also requires that the school district plan for the implementation of identification, location, evaluation and appropriate educational placement of all handicapped children.
Guaranteed procedural safeguards for handicapped children and their parents in the decisions regarding educational programs and confidentiality of files of those children identified as being handicapped will continue to be instituted. This application is on file in the Office of the Director of Special Education for the Nicholas County Schools for a period of thirty days beginning May 24, 1990 and ending June 22, 1990.
Any interested persons may review copies of the applications and make comments to Donald G. Elder of the Nicholas County School District.
Considerations will be given to all comments prior to the submission of the final copy of the application on June 25, 1990.

Barbara Bailey says goal setting important

By Josh Shepherd
The Carlisle Mercury Staff

Barbara Bailey-Cowden, NewsFirst 27 co-anchor for the 5:30 and 11:00 Lexington newscasts, said goal setting is one of the most important keys to future success at the National Honor Society Banquet Tuesday night.

The banquet, sponsored by the Carlisle/Nicholas County Chamber of Commerce, the Nicholas County Rotary and Lion's Clubs, honored high and elementary school students who had achieved academic honors for the year.

Well over 60 recipients were honored.

Bailey, a Harlan, Kentucky native, got her start in journalism working at the Harlan Daily Enterprise.

For 10 years she has worked with WKYT-television as reporter, news coordinator, weekend meteorologist, morning anchor, and producer. She became NewsFirst's co-anchor in 1984.

Determination and a willingness to rise through the ranks was one part of the reason for her rise in the ranks of broadcast journalism, Bailey said, but it also took a special kind of faith in herself that aided her most.

"I tried out for my high school speech team early in high school. My nervousness overcame me and I only had an audience of one, my instructor. Very kindly he suggested I try another organization," Bailey recounted.

Entering college, however, Bailey soon began to pursue a news career and developed slowly to overcome her anxieties to public speaking, she said.

Bailey said one of the keys to future success is goal setting and she encouraged the students to set their aims high and then set a plan in which to achieve it.

"When I began to work at the Daily Enterprise, my boss asked me what plans I had for the future. I discovered I had not given much thought to what I really wanted to do with my life. You need goals and you need to devise a plan for achieving them if you desire the most from your life," she said.

It was very encouraging and a strong plus that community organizations had gone to the trouble of honoring those students who have excelled academically, Bailey commented.
