CARLISLE - The Nicholas County Bluejackets took it on the chin Friday night, losing 34-14 to visiting Harrison County.

Harrison County, heading for the Class 2A playoffs, were able to turn in big plays which spelled the difference in the game.

"There were two or three plays in the first half where we failed in our assignments and Harrison County got easy touchdowns," Nicholas County Coach Greg Letcher said.

Letcher also said he felt Harrison County was probably the best team the Bluejackets had faced all year.

"They have good backfield people and they're good athletes. They are also real aggressive and like to hit," Letcher added.

Bad start for the Jackets

Nicholas County kicked off to open the game and Harrison County returned the ball to the 49 yard line. From there the Thoroughbreds began a scoring drive.

The first play from scrimmage was an off tackle run which gained two yards. This was followed by another off tackle run for two more yards.

On third down, Harrison County picked up five yards and were inches short from the first down.

The Thoroughbreds took a gamble at this early point in the game and went for the first down. A run up the middle advanced the ball to the Nicholas County 40 and the visitors had a first down.

Harrison County's speed came into play on the next series. A Harrison back took the pitch and blasted 36 yards down the left sideline before being pulled out of bounds by Jebron Farah and Brian Hilander.

A first down run picked up two yards and a second down run gave the visitors a touchdown. The Thoroughbreds kicked the extra point and led 7-0 with 8:51 left in the first quarter.

Harrison County kicked off and Nicholas took control on their own 32 yard line. A first down encroachment penalty on Harrison County gave the Bluejackets a first and five.

A dive play to Raymond Brown netted zero yards but a second down completion from Daniel Brown to Raymond Brown was good for about five yards.

Facing third and inches at the 7-46 mark of the first quarter, Nicholas County went to Raymond Brown. The junior halfback picked up three yards and gave the Bluejackets their first first down of the night.

Another Nicholas run gained a few yards and then, on second and eight, Daniel Brown found Brian Hilander. The senior end caught a pass for a 21 yard gain and Nicholas County was in business on the 34 yard line of Harrison.

Disaster struck on the next play. A Daniel Brown pass across the middle was picked off, stopping the Nicholas drive on the 13 yard line.

Both teams defenses stiffened on the ensuing series and forced punts. Barely into the second quarter, Harrison received a punt and took the ball at their own 43 yard line.

A short gain on first down was followed by a long run. The Harrison back broke out the Nicholas containment and scampered for a 45 yard gain so the

With the accuracy of a surgeon records fall as . . .

Swartz awesome in MSU win

By Hank Bond
The Carlisle Mercury Staff

MOREHEAD - With the precision of a skilled surgeon, Morehead State quarterback Chris Swartz dissected the Murray State defense leading the Eagles to a 69-6 win Saturday afternoon.

Swartz, also set three records with his 22 of 30 passing for 323 yards, and seven, count em, seven touchdowns.

He set the mark for most touchdown passes in a single game for the Ohio Valley Conference, he also set the OVC records for most touchdowns in a career (53) and most yards passing (8,684).

Swartz's records eclipsed Michael Proctor's records, who by the way played for a team called Murray State.

To draw even more attention to the unusual setting Kevin Proctor, the Murray State starting quarterback, is the younger brother of the record holding Michael Proctor.

While Swartz was spectacular in his performance several other outstanding football Eagles finished career as home, Saturday, with only a November 17 match-up in Richmond against Eastern Kentucky left on the season finale.

Eight seniors suiting up for the final time before the hometown crowd were: Darrell Beavers, Eric Coker, Ken Moore, Dave Pingue, Swartz, Mike Tisza, Mike Turner and Jerome Williams.

MSU Head Coach Cole Proctor (no relation to the Murray State Proctor family) forecast the Eastern game as the Richmond Bowl.

"That'll be our bowl game," Proctor said of the upcoming season ending clash. Through Saturday's games, Eastern is undefeated, leader in the Ohio Valley Conference, and ranked number one in the country in NCAA Division I-AA. Eastern upended Austin Peay 38-14, Saturday.

The win gave Eastern mentor Roy Kidd his 17th OVC championship, the school's 14th overall. It also assured the Richmond school of a trip to the NCAA I-AA playoffs for the 11th time.

"No matter what our record is, even if we're 0-10, we want to beat Eastern. Since we won't be in any post season play we have to look at this as our bowl game. We always want to beat Eastern."

Eagles roll with first quarter surge; fight breaks out

The Eagles may have a little momentum going into the Eastern battle. Here's why.

From the opening kickoff, it was very apparent the Eagles were going to take command.

With a sunny afternoon setting the stage, the temperature hovered near 70 degrees as the shirt-sleeve clad crowd settled in for the game.

Just to the north of Jayne Stadium the scenery was near breathtaking and the Eagles' performance was a close second to mother nature's display of colors.

About the only negative in the Morehead attack came during the Eagles' opening drive.

Taking the kickoff at the Morehead three, Anthony White scampered 46 yards down the right sideline to set the Eagles' offense in motion at the MSU 49.

A quarter pass to Jerome Williams lost five yards and on second and 15, Swartz wound up and dropped a pass in the secondary, which was picked off by William Rosson to set the Blue Racers up at Murray 37.

Three plays later the Eagles defense had held Murray to two yards and White took the ball on a Greg Duncan punt for a 15 yard return and Morehead was in business at the Eagles' 23.

Jerdine picked up seven yards on two carries, Williams found a beautiful opening through the middle of the Morehead line and scampered 12 yards.

Six more yards from Williams moved the ball into Murray territory.

Swartz hit Dave Pingue for seven yards, Williams carried twice to set the stage for Swartz.

Murray's defense went into a blue formation, so Anthony White slipped behind the Murray secondary and hauled in a 24 yard bullet from Swartz for Morehead's first score.

Craig Bere tacked on the extra point and Morehead led with 8:03 to play in the first quarter.

Four Murray plays later Morehead was operating again at the MSU 48.

Anthony Jerdine went left for four yards, a Swartz pass fell incomplete and the Eagles were penalized five yards for delay of game.

On third and 11 from the Morehead 47, the Racers went into a defensive set indicating a blitz.

Again, White found a seam down the right side, once again he had the Murray secondary, and Swartz was true to form. Some 53 yards later it was 13-0 Morehead. Bere was on line again and it was 14-0, with 5:03 to play in the opening stanza.

Morehead used only one minute to add points to the board.

First quarter scoring wasn't over, though. After another ineffective Murray drive Morehead started at the MSU 46.

Williams carried twice - seven yards each - Darrin Harris went five yards, then Swartz went back to the air.

White ran a hook pattern for six yards, a pass to Pingue was incomplete, then Swartz went to White, for 20 yards.

With a first and goal at the Murray nine, Williams took the handoff on a play action pass play, fought off four tackles, and went head first into the end zone for the score. Bere made it 21-0 and the Eagles had effectively put the game away.

"We knew if we could get a little more momentum we would be able to control the game," Proctor said. "We talked about putting certain our defense being able to contain the Murray offense, but we knew we would have to get our offense going . . . and obviously we did."

The first quarter was muted, though, with a bench clearing brawl midway through the first quarter. Morehead's defense had gotten to Murray's Proctor, who slipped while scrambling. A Morehead player fell on Proctor to end the play, but there was no flag thrown.

Lineman squared off and players from both benches raced onto the field to join the fracas.

MSU's coach Proctor went into high gear getting onto the field, nearly ripping the sideline head-set from its connection trying to get to the 30 yard line where the fight was in progress.

Proctor began to sling players away from each other, officials stepped in to slow the fighting, and within a minute cooler heads had prevailed.

Game referee George Lusby threw flags against both teams for unsportsmanlike conduct, but no players were ejected.

Although there was plenty of emotion shown by both teams the remainder of the game, there were no more incidents of fighting.

Proctor said little about the altercation after the game except, "There's no place in a game for that kind of stuff. We don't want our players involved in that kind of thing."

In the second quarter Morehead added two more touchdowns. The first came with 12:45 to play until intermission when Swartz hooked up with Pingue from 43 yards out. Bere added the kick, and it was 28-0, MSU.

Williams counted the last score of the half for Morehead less than a minute later.

Murray quarterback Kevin Proctor, the first of three quarterbacks used by the Racers, coughed up the ball at the end of a run and MSU's Tom Cohan covered the fumble at the Murray 22.

The first play from scrimmage Williams found a nice opening straight up the middle, out ran two linebackers at the seven yard line and slipped into the end zone 22 yards later to lift MSU to a 34-0 advantage. Bere was perfect on his fifth kick of the day and Morehead had put the game away, 35-0 with 11:39 left until the half.

Murray mounted a drive deep into Morehead territory, but with the Racers facing third and 10 at the MSU 29, Lawrence Gore stepped in front of a Proctor aerial and the drive was stalled.

At the end of the MSU series, on fourth and 12 at midfield, Brian Flynn kicked his first punt of the day and Murray went back on offense with 50 seconds left in the half. The Racers moved to a first down at the Murray 45, when Proctor threw up a pass into the flats where the Eagles' Tyrone Fisher nabbed the second MSU interception of the game.

Morehead opted to run out the clock to end the first 30 minutes of play.

Swartz dynamic in second half, as records fall

In the second half Swartz continued to be true to form.

With 13:45 to play in the quarter Brandon Ford hauled in a 17 yard pass for a score. A mull call stop caused a failed after touchdown conversion as Jeremy Holbrook tried to pass the ball into the end zone.

Pingue was the next recipient of a Swartz pass from 12 yards out with 8:27 tgglay in the quarter, and Ford took another 12 yard scoring strike with 4:54 to play to make it 55-0.

Ford, caught between three Murray defensive backs refused to go down, and crossed the goal line dragging two would-be tacklers with him.

Murray moved in for a score with 3:00 to play in the quarter as Michael Davis went in from one yard out.

The two point conversion failed and MSU led 55-6.

We told Swartz we would play him through the third quarter and that was it, so for him to make the records he would have to hurry. I'm not one for records, much," Proctor told his radio audience, "but this was a chance for this young man to write some history."

And write history, Swartz did.

Anthony White right went wide to the right with 1:55 to play in the period and Swartz drilled a true rope to the end zone from 18 yards out for his seventh touchdown completion of the game. Bere lifted the extra point and MSU led 62-0.

Swartz gets moment in the sun

Swartz was allowed to begin the fourth quarter.

Before the Eagles would begin play, however, Proctor took a timeout and motioned Swartz from the field.

In an emotion filled moment, Proctor went onto the field and handed the game ball to Swartz as the Morehead fans jumped to their feet to honor the senior signalcaller.

Swartz walked to the sideline rail of the home side seats and handed the ball to his mother, whose tears were evident as she had watched her son's final home game as an Eagle.

The fourth quarter belonged to Holbrook, a near cinch to run Morehead's option oriented offense in 1991.

Holbrook, a true freshman, who was Proctor's first recruit as the Eagles' head coach, is from Painsville.

Surrounded by a mostly second string offensive unit, Holbrook shook off the effects of a Williams fumble to give the ball back to Murray, and on MSU's next possession pushed, shoved, scrambled and sprinted the Eagles to the game's final score, as senior Tezza scored his only touchdown of four years to set the final margin as Matt Stevens tacked on the point after chip shot. Williams received the same timeout calling exit Swartz had during the drive, as the Eagles went to reserves for the final minutes of the games.

Proctor shed light on his first year experiences, with only the Eastern game left to play.

"I was real lucky to come in for (Chris) Swartz's last year. He came to me right after I came here to spell some rumors. There had been some say he wasn't going to play . . . but he said he would run (the option) or pass . . . whatever the team needed.

"Chris is an outstanding young man. The type of boy one would be proud to have as a son."

Proctor also praised the rest of the Eagles.

"Chris can only be as good as his receivers, his linemen, and the defense. We played a complete game this week, unlike the Samford game (a 25-22 MSU loss) where we led 14-0 at half and couldn't play a complete game. That game was an doubtedly the biggest disappointment of the season.

"I was certainly glad to see these young men perform the way I knew they could."

Although Morehead is 4-6, Proctor said he felt that without the illness and injuries the Eagles have suffered this season, his charges could possibly be 6-4 or 7-3. "But, you can't look back."

Morehead amassed 603 yards total offense, 323 through the air and 280 on the ground. That was a new standard for MSU football teams. The 69 points was the school's fourth highest total, second only to the 104 points against Rio Grande in 1941.

We didn't throw a pass in the fourth quarter in an effort to not run up the score," Proctor said of the Eagles.

"I have been on the other end of that kind of game."

Murray coach Mike Mahoney said he wouldn't question Proctor but he would remember the game.

Williams was the leading rusher with 116 yards on 13 carries. Anthony Jerdine had 54 yards on 15 attempts.

White finished the game with 145 yards on five receptions, three for touchdowns.

Pingue had 143 yards on nine catches, two for scores, and Brandon Ford had two catches, 29 yards, and two touchdowns.

The Eagles picked off four interceptions in the game, and White had 140 return yards on five punt returns.

Outside linebacker Billy Cloud led MSU defenders with seven tackles in the game, but 22 of 23 players listed on the defensive statistics counted at least one tackle.

The Eagles had 11 tackles for loss, including four quarterback sacks for a minus 30 yards.

Gary Yowan had three quarterback sacks to lead the Eagles. Mike Turner had two interceptions for 14 return yards.

Morehead improved to 4-6 on the season, 2-3 in OVC play. Kickoff in Richmond will be 1:30 p.m., November 17.

Morehead State Senior Quarterback, Chris Swartz, a Bath County native, continued his torrid pace Saturday. In finishing his home career as an Eagle, Swartz set the OVC mark for touchdowns in a game with seven. In addition, two other conference marks fell. Swartz and the Eagles defeated Murray 69-6, and will wrap up the season, November 17 at Eastern Kentucky, the nation's number one ranked I-AA team.

...11 yard line.

Harrison scored on their first play from the 11 and added the point after. With 10:27 left in the second quarter the Breds led 14-0.

Nicholas County gets on the board

Nicholas County took the kick off and put together a good drive of their own. Included in the passing of Daniel Brown and running of Raymond Brown, the Bluejackets picked up two consecutive first downs.

Pushed back by a sack and two incompletions on the ensuing series Nicholas County faced fourth and 10 from their 45 yard line. A fake punt by Daniel Brown resulted in an incompletion and Harrison County took the ball.

The Nicholas defense reared up and stopped the visitors. Two tackles for losses combined with a penalty, had Harrison County facing fourth and 20 and forced the visitors to punt.

Nicholas County received the punt and set up shop on the Harrison County 40 yard line. Nicholas County immediately began an air assault.

Daniel Brown found Raymond Brown out of the backfield for a gain of 13 yards. The junior quarterback then hooked up with senior end Brian Hilander. The Harrison cornerback bit on a Brown pump fake and Hilander scurried by the defender to take the ball in and race 27 yards before being hauled down.

Facing first an goal to go, Nicholas scored. Brown found junior tight end Travis Sons in the end zone for the touchdown. The extra point attempt was missed and the Bluejackets trailed 14-6 with 1:57 left in the first half.

A big play really hurts

Nicholas County tried an onside kick but Harrison recovered.

Starting from the Harrison 46, the visitors had trouble getting moving. Facing fourth and two, Harrison went for the first down.

A quarterback keeper picked up the first down with 21 seconds left in the first half. Harrison followed with a 42 yard scoring pass to a running back. The point after was good and the visitors took a 21-6 lead into the locker room.

The visitors take control

Harrison County came out of the locker room and took control early in the second half.

Stopping the first Nicholas possession after a gain of one yard, the visiting offense went to work. A first down run gained eight yards and moved the ball into the Nicholas half of the field. On the next play a speedy Harrison County back took the pitch, burst outside and zoomed 45 yards for the score. The point after kick was missed and Harrison led 27-6 early in the third quarter.

Nicholas received the following kick. The Bluejackets defense was unable to get untracked and punted after three plays.

Harrison received the punt and took possession on their own 37 yard line. A penalty moved the visitors back five yards and a first down run set up a second and ten. Harrison County went for the jugular but Brian Hilander intercepted the pass and returned it to the Harrison's 40 yard line.

Nicholas County failed to move the ball on their offensive series. A roughing the kicker penalty was called on Harrison, however, The 15 yard penalty gave the Bluejackets a first down.

The breaks evened out on the next series. A Harrison defender tipped the ball at the line of scrimmage and a linebacker picked the ball off and fell to the ground.

Harrison County then moved the ball 60 yards on six plays to score another touchdown. The point after was good and Harrison led 34-6 with 1:53 left in the third quarter.

Nicholas County finally broke through in the fourth quarter. Daniel Brown hooked up with Jebron Farah for a 40 yard score. Following two penalties, Brown connected with senior Mike Johnson for a 33 yard two point conversion to make the score 34-14, Harrison.

Neither team could generate offense late in the fourth quarter and the game ended with a 34-14 count on the board.

Nicholas County Coach Greg Letcher said he felt his team played as good a defensive game as it had all year.

"Their were just a few breakdowns and their people had the ability to take advantage of them," the coach said.

Letcher said he felt his team could pass on the Thoroughbreds but would like to have had a running game to go along with the passing game.

"We put the ball in the air 36 times," Letcher said, "but I think we could have been more effective if we could have ran the ball well."

Letcher congratulated his senior class for their efforts. "The seniors did everything I asked," Letcher said, "they've been a quality asset to this football program."

Junior Jackets end season in tourney

WINCHESTER — Nicholas County's junior high girls' basketball season came to an end, last Tuesday, with a 58-28 loss at the hands of Conkwright Middle School in Winchester.

The hosts of the tournament round jumped to a big 18-6 lead after the first six minutes and led 29-12 at intermission.

Conkwright continued to roll with 10-6 third quarter advantage and push the final margin to 30 points with a 19-5 run in the last period.

Tara George scored 10 points to top Nicholas County, added three rebounds, two steals and one assist.

Melanie Jones had a seven point, nine rebound night, as Danita Livingood scored five points and pulled down six rebounds. Cybil Hunt, Jennifer Caswell and Mandy Abnee rounded out the scoring with two points each.

The junior Jackets finished with a season mark of 10-5.
