LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editors:
Saturday, October 27, I attended the Little League Basketball game in which I became so upset that I spent the last quarter of the lobby.

I really didn't care at that point if the game was on or not. In my opinion BOTH teams had I've never been sure about the sport of football, safety-wise, but I have changed my mind.

At least with football there is an expectancy of rough play and gear provided.

Kids went home from this basketball game with more knocks, knots and bruises than any football game could have provided.

Over the last couple of years, I have watched some coaches pound on the floor, stomps and kick dirt, use language unbecomingly and often not allow a child to play even when the coach is clearly afraid of losing one point in a basketball game or a run in a baseball game. I have even watched a coach take his team off the field after losing, leaving the other team standing in line to shake hands.

I think it is time parents pay attention. Where are sports in Nicholas County heading? Is this what we want for our kids? Minor and little league sports should have a certain degree of competition, sure. But it should be to inspire them to be better, not to injure them, and to have fun.

Some of these kids will be going on to higher competitive sports and will be playing in High School. Hopefully, high school coaches won't tolerate this type of play.

But if kids are encouraged to play this way and are not shown it is ok, it sure isn't going to be easy for future coaches to work with.

Do we want our county to be known for the way it treats its youth? We certainly could have been known as a county representing Nicholas County if they played the way games were played Saturday.

If the coaches aren't going to be all right with the attitude of the coaches, are they playing? That's what I'm all about. I'm not here to get into the game and get into the game and get into the game.

There is no one here to get into the game and get into the game and get into the game.

I think we should be all right with the attitude of the coaches, are they playing? That's what I'm all about.

There is no one here to get into the game and get into the game and get into the game.
