WEEK OUR FLAG
We salute the stars and stripes, The flag of the U.S.A. We cheer our nation's color. As we honor it today. Yes, it should always thrill us. When we see it proudly fly. Its colors were an splendor beneath the sunny sky. Its stars upon the field of blue, its stripes of red and white. Its historic and symbolic life is so beautiful and bright. Our flag was made by Betty Kison. From George Washington's design.

All of us Americans will agree: There is no other flag so fine. There were thirteen stars at first. A circle upon the blue. Standing for the colonies. But the thirteen stripes still do. When a new state was included, a star was added on. Till we were number fifty, Upon the field of blue. Whether the flag is held aloft by Marchers Or on a Veteran's grave, it represents our country. That we pledge allegiance to. Denoting freedom under God. The land where dreams come true. We should respect it always. And be ever loyal to it. Because it is the symbol of our country. Our own Red, White and Blue.
