What Jesus Taught

By George L. Rogers
God has planned that thos tho are disobedient to His wi nd way will be lost. (Matt. 25:46 o predetermined the way for u and me to be saved through Son Jesus Christ. When one planned or predetermined that men could be saved. Christ taught while bere upon the earth that be is the "author of eternal salvation to all that obey him." (Heb. 5.8.9.) He further taught that "He that believeth and on of sins." (Acts 2:38.)

ally lost or saved, but th each person determines his ow destiny. (Acts 10:34, 35.) An aved. (2 Pet. 3:9.) The Gospel of lesus Christ as Paul and Joh seems thinking that they will be saved if God wants them to b for them to be lost they can d absolutely nothing about it. Such lalse reasoning or concept about alvation from sin will cause many to be lost. God is not willing the to be lost. God is not willing trus any should perish as tsught by the apostle Peter. (2 Peter 3:9.) Paul tsught that God would have all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. (1 Tim. 2:4.) God's good will to all men is here expressed, and he desires that all should learn and know the truth and be saved. There is no intimation that salvation is no intimation that salvation from ain is granted save through the knowledge of the truth. The truth has been revealed to guide man into the way of salvation. Without God sdirection we could never have remission of sins and eternal life.

God also predestined that the trightness who live faithful to thim unto the end shall be saved exercised.
