"WERE YOU COUNTED?"
An undercount of Kentuckians in the CENSUS could cost the state millions of dollars in lost projects and programs, and perhaps even one of Kentucky's votes in Congress. It's not too late to be counted. There are many people who know they have not been counted. UP UNTIL THE END OF SEPTEMBER THERE IS A TOLL FREE NUMBER 1-800-999-9999 WHICH CAN BE USED BY ANYONE WHO THINKS HE OR SHE HAS NOT BEEN COUNTED. This count is VERY important to the City of Carlisle and Nicholas County, as it could mean a loss of revenue and grants for fun cutting projects such as new water lines, parks and recreation, etc. IF YOU HAVEN'T BEEN COUNTED, PLEASE CALL THE ABOVE NUMBER — NICHOLAS COUNTY

Miss Anesia Ann Hunt

Miss Anesia Ann Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Carville, and William I. Hunt, Maryland, and Brian Keith Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Watkins, Carlisle were united in marriage Saturday, September 1, 1990 at 7:30 p.m. at the Carlisle United Methodist Church.

Rev. Walter Applegate, of Nashville and Rev. Graham Abbott, Carlisle officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was provided by vocalist Shana Wiggins, Carlisle, and pianist Sharon Wilson, Carlisle.

The altar was decorated with fresh greenery with babies breath and ferns; seven branch candlesticks decorated with silk stephanotis and large ivory bows on each; the sixty candlesticks was decorated with silk stephanotis on ivory base.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather Jerry Hughes, wore a formal ivory satin gown, fashioned with a deep V-neckline front and back, long fitted sheer embroidered shawl like sleeves with satin puffed shoulders strewn with clusters of pearls, sequins and a large bow in back. Her softly gathered skirt trimmed in a wide border of a cathedral train. Her veil was a clustered beehive of organza and silk flowers, pearl and sequinal accents and flowing strands of tulle of the valley to the side to complement the triple tier ivory tiara.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their bridesmaids, Miss Marcella Fields, Brookly, Indiana, cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. She wore a pale peach tea length dress and carried a large lace bouquet of flowers and a small bouquet of flowers.

Miss Laura Fields and Miss Erin Fields, Brookly, Indiana, served their cousin as train bearers. Their tea length dresses were ivory tulle accented with lace collars and lace hem. Their hairpieces were a large lace peach bow and a cluster, centered with loops and long streamers of lace, pearls and satin.

Mr. Kevin Watkins, Bloomington, Indiana, served as best man.

Refreshments were served at the home of the bride and groom.
