SOCIAL SECURITY UPDATE

Q. Our disabled son just became entitled to SSI payments. What do we report changes in our resources to Social Security? His eligibility is based on his disability, isn't it?

A. Yes. Your son must be disabled in order to receive SSI payments. However, his SSI eligibility is also based on the amount of his income and resources. Until he reaches 18, part of your income and resources are also considered as belonging to him. If either of these is too high, his payment may be affected.

Q. Can a person who is not a United States Citizen receive SSI payments?

A. If the person has been granted permanent residency status, or if the Immigration and Naturalization Service has given him or her permission to remain in the country, that person may be able to receive SSI if the other eligibility requirements are met.

Despite advances in the economic status of most retirees, older women, especially women over age 85, remain one of the most economically vulnerable groups in our society. Social Security hopes that its current Supplemental Security Income (SSI) outreach effort will assist some of these older women.

Because of differences in life expectancies, 70 percent of Social Security beneficiaries

"Everything has been ready since February 11." Her education has been through in-service, consulting hands-on with the company representative for three days and prior training and education at another facility. This is state of the art, according Dan Miller, JHMC Administrator.

For maximum results compression may be uncomfortable for Robyn. But "30 seconds of compression is worth the discomfort by having ready access to the equipment. Most patients are very cooperative. Further suggestions for optimal comfort are to avoid caffeine for up to two weeks prior to the test. That means no chocolate either. Also, braes will be less tender one week after a menstrual period.

"We never do it on a pregnant woman. It is an unnecessary risk."

For those women who do not have insurance, they are encouraged to seek assistance and information from the Nicholas County Health Department or The Department of Social Services. See your physician or contact Robyn at the hospital to make an appointment.

An Australian Film company shooting a mini series for Australian contacted the Ky. Film Commission as well as the film commissions in 7 other states. The film company was seeking to shoot in a small town which has late 1800's buildings and also utilizing an old train.

The Ky Film Commission contacted Wiley and Shirley Ross with the Kentucky Central Railway. The Blossers Bros. in Ross, in turn, contacted Tourism, Inc. A video tape was sent along with a video of the Ky Central Railway train to the Australian film company.

Carlsle came in as second choice from towns across eight states.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson visited the Lawrenceville Baptist Church, Sunday, where Rev. Charles Walters is pastor. The Walters family sang in the afternoon.

Mrs. G.W. Sexton, Mrs. Catherine Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson were in Mt. Sterling, Saturday.

Some were very scared from hearing her stories. But after explanations are given there is nothing of which to be afraid.

Every woman between the ages of 40 and 60 should have what is called a baseline exam. Then after two, four, and every two years, and with the physician is immediate and with the patient, it is continuous.

"We do about four exams each day." A complete medical history is taken, and a follow-up is conducted personally by Robyn.

Social Security Commissioner Gwendolyn S. King has committed the Agency to an outreach effort to ensure that all individuals who are potentially eligible for SSI know about the program, know the benefits of the program can mean to them, and have an opportunity to obtain benefits.
