VISION AND HEALTH
 Poor eyesight can affect your overall health and feeling of well being. Eyes which strain to see well, either at near or far distances, tire easily and inhibit chronic fatigue, headaches and general pain. Thousands of people are spoiled annually by patients seeking relief from chronic headaches, when what they really need is a pair of glasses or vision training - to correct the way they see.
 People who are nearsighted, or have them because of poor performance which is visually related (poor depth perception, substandard color vision, etc.), often suffer from depression and anxiety, which sometimes produce ulcers and other diseases. Teenagers constantly perform poorly in athletics because they can't see what they're doing well-@-hand and as a state of stress. (Just stress is a great inducer of illness.)
 Emotionally misperceived young children who shy away from sports and socialization often develop emotional and social problems which in turn affects their appetites, their appearance and their health. In many cases corrected vision can open the door to greater happiness and better health.

"It's easy to praise something you're convinced about—like geothermal heating and cooling."
 —Darryl Nunnally, Nunnally Builders, Cynthiaia, Ky.
 "All we build is total electric. Wise Choice Homes - and so far, 17 of them have incorporated geothermal heating and cooling," says Darryl Nunnally of Nunnally Builders. "We've been getting outstanding feedback about the extremely low operating costs of these geothermal systems."
 Geothermal—the heat pump that uses the nearly constant underground temperature—warms your home in winter, and cools it in summer, at incredible savings. It even provides free hot water.

MORHEAD — The Nicholas County High School Center Band captured a three superior rating, ranking the band among the state's elite.
 The rating came at the KMEA regional Concert Band Festival at Morehead State University last Saturday.
 The band captured the competition's highest honors among the many schools across the state's Eastern Region.
 The ranking qualifies the NCHS band for the statewide honors held at the University of Kentucky on May 9.
 The competition will be held in the Otis Singletary Center for the Arts.
 Band Director Shawn Parrish said the band did very well in its first competition in many years.
 "The kids all did a great job. It was a total team effort," Parrish said.
 The band, made up of 32 NCHS music students, played three numbers to catch the judges' highest rating.
