Watch out for head lice

With our young scholars going back to school, it's time for parents to be on the lookout for those minute creatures that are guaranteed to make youngsters scratch and scratch again - cooties.
Cooties, or head lice, have been around for a very long time and are prevalent in all Medieval England. Head lice, officially called Pediculus humanus capitis, represent one of the most common contact diseases among school aged children.

Fall Planting Time

✓ Fall's Bulbs: Hardy Mums • Tulips • Hyacinths • Daffodils
✓ Shrubs transmitted among children at school or at play from the sharing of hats, head combs, pillows and other objects.
Parents should stress to children the importance of not sharing these items.
