Add Lasting Beauty & Performance To Your Home With Therm-O-loc Vinyl Replacement Windows

Transforming a house into a beautiful home is a costly and time-consuming task. Home improvement projects and overall upkeep require an equal investment of time and money. That's why today's remodelers and homeowners look for replacement windows that perform the best in all weather conditions, keep their appearance and are easy to maintain. The answer to that problem is Therm-O-loc Solid Vinyl Replacement Windows.

Why Solid Vinyl Therm-O-loc?

Therm-O-loc windows are made of solid vinyl and feature multi-chambered construction for strength and durability. Unlike wood, rigid vinyl combines strength and durability with high resistance to abrasion and weather. It's hard, yet lightweight. Furthermore, the wood, vinyl is an excellent insulator. In-vinyl will resist the effects of extreme weather and atmospheric pollutants and corrosion. In addition, the multi-chambered construction traps air, using it to further insulate - cutting heat loss in winter, heat gain in summer, and reducing noise intrusion.

Energy Efficiency

Therm-O-loc windows cut energy costs by incorporating double pane insulating glass. Triple insulating glass and low emissivity glass is also available. A special dual diameter glazing provides a continuous, non-entraining seal around each glass. In addition, our windows are double weatherstripped for added protection from air and water.

Low Maintenance

Therm-O-loc windows' easy-to-remove sash and the unique double hung tilt provides a quick and careful cleaning from inside your home - no ladders! The double hung design fits on a removable pane which also permits easy access for sash cleaning - more time! And remember, you'll never have to paint your window frames. Vinyl won't chip, flake, rust, rot, blister or peel - virtually maintenance free!

Add lasting beauty and value to your home with Therm-O-loc Vinyl Replacement Windows.

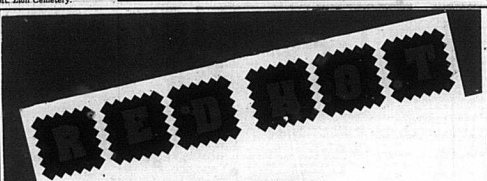

Since each window is custom made to your specific size requirements, our windows are virtually limitless. Also available is a wide selection of decorative grid patterns. Traditional, Colonial, Victorian, Contemporary - each grid pattern effects a style easily suited to any home.

Other options include dual glazing, triple glazing, full and half screens, and low emissivity glass. A convenient railing fit is available for new construction installation.

Annual Spring Cleanup to be held April 25

Over 4,000 of the Transportation Cabinet's Adopt-A-Highway participants will show their concern for the environment by joining forces on April 25, 1992 in the state-wide Annual Spring Cleanup. Community groups, businesses and organizations from around the Commonwealth who participate in the Cabinet's Adopt-A-Highway Program plan to combine their efforts to clean their adopted roadways and show a unified support for the environment.

"The environment is one of the major issues facing us today," Transportation Cabinet Secretary Don C. Kelly said. "We need to show our support for a clean, safe environment and to do our part in whatever way possible. It is our hope that the participation will not only make others aware of the destructive effects of littering, but that a renewed concern for the environment will result." The Transportation Cabinet's highway workers spent over 200,000 hours in 1991 for litter pick-up alone and collected over 200,000 bags of trash. The state's Adopt-A-Highway Program, now with over 4,000 groups and over 14,500 miles adopted, has helped bring litter down, create a partnership with the public, and aid in the growth of environmental awareness.

"Our Annual Spring Cleanup will coordinate well with Keep America Beautiful Month and Earth Day '92. To see other environmental groups throughout the state will likely be coordinating their own efforts as well. It's a great time for the entire Commonwealth to recognize the need for changes in the way we treat our environment."
