LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:
 I remember my Mother telling me about the times that neighbors would pull together and help each other when someone was down on their luck, or had a family emergency. Well in our case I have a wonderful neighbor that does just that. On Friday July 31, our daughter Stephanie suddenly passed out and went into a seizure. Our neighbor Lorna Wells called for help and then came to the house herself to offer her help. She then offered to keep our other daughter while Stephanie was in the hospital. So you see we are one of the lucky ones to still have such good neighbors.
 Thank you Lorna. Also thanks to Ronnie McDonald and Lamar Mann for getting to us so quickly and taking care of our daughter. Thanks to Nicholas County Hospital and Dr. Egan for all their help.
 Our children are the most important things in our lives. It's nice to know when something like this happens, you can count on others for their help.
 Thank you,
 Mr. and Mrs. Steve Vance

Editor:
 First thing is first. This letter is not intended to offend anyone, but is intended to try to change some things. In the past few years our beautiful bluegrass state has been overtaken by trash and weeds. It's not only the citizens of Kentucky throwing their garbage and trash out on the side of the roads, but also the fault of the leaders in state government for not taking their responsibility of overseeing contracting services.
 One thing our tax dollars are supposed to pay for is keeping the sides of the roads clean and mowed, but not

 The Carlisle city council held what may have been the longest public hearing on record Tuesday, August 3. The regulations governing the use of the $244,700 HUD grant for the gas restoration project of the city must have two public hearings for the purpose of hearing any other views of the public. At Tuesday's meeting, nobody showed up. So the council entertained themselves for a few minutes and adjourned.
 In a scrimmage which Coach Ben Pumphrey said was held in honor of the Nicholas County High School Bluejackets were edged by Bourbon County High School 20-16, in a game played Monday morning here. Heavy rains had forced a postponement from Friday night.

Tobacco harvest demonstration to be held August 20

There will be a tobacco harvest demonstration August 20, at 8:30 p.m. The tobacco harvest is being presented by the Powell Manufacturing Company of South Carolina. This machine is very similar to the one used by the University of Kentucky Extension Service and Farm Credit Service.
 Anyone interested in seeing this demonstration is asked to call the Extension Office at 289-2212, since a meal will be served.
 Mr. Larry Swetsman, University of Kentucky Agricultural Engineer will be present to help answer questions. He was one of the team members that designed the harvester.
 The program is being presented by the Nicholas County Extension Service and Farm Credit Service.

Getting State Government is getting more money some of their workers think can "flow" away. Just the other day someone told me of a one the state had accidentally left and when reported all they said was, "Keep it, the state has plenty of money." That makes me mad! They didn't want to take any of their present money to pick it up when they were passing through. That is wasting our tax dollars. Our tax dollars are paying for those cones, and if they don't want to take any of their money, they should raise the road tax, and buy more they will eventually run out of money and then have to raise taxes again, taking more of our money. Something has to be done, and done soon or we may as well throw our paychecks out with seeing contracting services.
 One thing our tax dollars are supposed to pay for is keeping the sides of the roads clean and mowed, but not
