RED CARPET DAYS

For the next two weeks The Carlisle Mercury will publish thirteen different advertisements and stories under the theme "Red Carpet Days". Each week businesses will be featured on each page so that readers and shoppers can gain a better understanding of the people involved in each business and what that business does.

The lure of the malls or larger cities the heavy advertising of television and the presumption that big is always better have often drawn customers away from the trade area to spend their money.

The recognition that big is not always better however has brought about a better awareness that the best place to shop may be in your own backyard so to speak.

Recognition fellowship and trust are basic needs of every shopper and you can find these things in the trade area. Local merchants stand ready to help you with your purchase and to show you their care. Just as importantly you will find the merchants featured on these pages from the trade area can compete with the prices of the larger cities. These merchants appreciate your loyal patronage and are ready to give you the best prices possible as a means of showing their thanks.

Another plus to shopping with the merchants listed on these pages is that they know your needs and keep their shelves stocked with merchandise selected especially for you. These progressive merchants courteous salespeople and this newspaper are working together to offer customers the suggest welcome and greatest values to be found in any shopping district. They invite you to come into their shops and see for yourself the values they have to offer.

Participating in "Red Carpet Days" are: Reid & Vice; Montgomery Tractor Sales; Paris Vision; Farm Credit Services; Hopkins Drug; County Coasters; Nicholas County Feeder Supply; Jerry's Restaurant; The Deposit Bank of Carlisle; Nell's Home Furnishings; Dee Jay's; Kentucky Communications and Dutch's Chevys-Olds.
