Drenching the Hillside

Nicholas County Firefighter Matt Hughes finally forced himself in the newspaper this week by going it alone against a brush fire in front of a tightly trailer about a half mile from East Union Road last Friday. The fire, which continued off and on through the week, led by firefighters and was finally quelled when firefighters, who last night, to a brush fire on the entire hillside. Firefighters arrived and drenched the hill to keep the fire from returning.

GENERAL NEWS

Annette Florio was escorted out on the football field by the senior football players Friday night as they dedicated the Nicholas-East Center game to her for her 23 years of service as the bus driver for the team.

The Community Action Council, Wednesday, celebrated the ground breaking of the construction of the Shepherd Place, a housing unit for the elderly being constructed just outside Dorseyville. Although ground had already been broken at the location, Nicholas County Community Action Representative Margaret Hunter, Carlisle Mayor Furness Hughes, and Nicholas County Judge-Executive Reese Sirost participated in the ceremony to commemorate the building's start.
