CATARACT
Cataract is a common visual disturbance among the elderly that can be a needless disability. As a cataract progresses, vision decreases, colors become less distinct, and there may be increasing difficulty from glare - such as from sunlight or car headlights at night. Frequently this can be avoided with same day surgery at the Clark Regional Medical Center's state-of-the-art eye surgery unit. If you have vision loss or have questions about eye care, please contact our office for free information.

Open House planned

By Heather Mathes-Harris
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

CARLISLE - The Nicholas County Elementary's primary program is planning a Primary Open House to be held August 16 at 7 p.m.

"This is an individual meeting between parent and teacher in the classroom to discuss what programs the teacher will be following, parent volunteer time, parties, homeroom mothers, homework, materials or supplies the children will need during the year and generally the reading and math programs which will be implemented during the year," Anne Baird, K-1 Primary teacher, said.

Learning centers will be set up in the classroom for parents to view.

"This meeting is primarily for parents to ask questions. Parents will not have to second-guess teachers, and second-hand information does not have to be sorted out later, they can get to know how primary works and how this program affects their child. Parents can meet their child's teacher and get to know that teacher because teachers teach in different ways, some don't give homework and some do and now is the time to sort all that out," Baird said.

"This meeting is primarily for parents to ask questions."

Assistants or aides will not be available at the meeting, but parents may meet those aides at a later date.

Baird stressed the meeting is for parents only.

"Parents need to discuss several points with their child's teacher and with the child there it will be very difficult to do so," Baird said.

"Centers are already set up, so children need to stay at home."

She also made the point that since the centers are already set up children should not be there to see them until it is time to introduce the perspective center into the curriculum.

K-1 Primary teachers include; Baird, Georgia Becker, Michelle Crout, Michelle Vice, Carol Hammons, Joan Spickler and Joy Story.

2-3 Primary teachers include; Sharon Wilson, Géraldine McMillan, Connie Wills, Hannah Gabriel, Charlene Harris, Dana Lane, Brenda Lawrence, Elaine Broderick and Charlene Dillon.

"If a parent does not like the teacher their child is with they should go straight to Mr. Hammons (principal). But they should come to Primary Open House, get to know the teacher first and how she runs her room's program, they will probably like what they see and no changes will need to be made," Baird said.

Bus drivers hold training exercises

By Heather Mathes-Harris
Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

CARLISLE - The Nicholas County School bus drivers held driver training on July 29 and 30.

Miles and Teresa Hughes, Emergency Medical Technicians, were on hand to advise bus drivers on general first aid and emergency evacuation procedures.

"We basically went over the extrication process, how best to get the children out of the bus in case of a fire, how to keep them calm, keep track of them and their condition," Teresa Hughes, EMT, said.

"They know the children best and they can be there first for the kids and let us know whose condition may be deteriorating in order for everything to be set up for us when we get on the scene.

"We taught simple bandaging and splinting in cast of cuts or fractures, and also the shock position in the case of internal bleeding and other injuries," Teresa Hughes said.

Rob Lane, Nicholas County High School Assistant Principal and Director of Transportation, said bus drivers must complete training each year, but this is the first year EMTs were on hand to instruct the drivers in emergency medical treatment procedures.

"This is very valuable information, we don't ever look for an accident to happen, but in case it does we will be prepared. This is the best bus driver training I have ever been to in the 20 years I have driven; we all learned a lot," Sue Doyle, bus driver said.

Baesler hosts forum

U.S. Representative Scotty Baesler will host an education policy forum with educators in Nicholas County. The forum is structured to provide local educators with insight into a new crop of federal legislation and policies designed to fundamentally improve the education system at the local level.

The meeting with Nicholas County educators will be held Thursday evening, August 19, at 7 p.m., in the library of the Nicholas County Elementary School, located on School Drive in Carlisle.

Congressman Baesler said, "Many of the initiatives at the federal level mirror the type of reforms Kentucky already is implementing, and it will be important to identify how best to further those efforts with additional assistance from the federal government." Baesler is a member of House and Education Committee, which has been working on a variety of major education issues during this Congressional session.

"Professional educators in Nicholas County are in a
