"Large Enough To Serve
 Small Enough To Care"

Horse Park holds course

The Kentucky Horse Park and the Kentucky Animal Control Association is sponsoring an Equine Care Training School at the Kentucky Horse Park. This program is designed to acquaint animal care and control personnel with the proper methods of caring for, handling, and training the horse. It will also give them the ability to identify the injured, abused, or neglected horse.

In the performance of their duties, animal control personnel are often required to handle, care for, or make judgments involving horses. Many of these officers have little or no experience with horses.
