Someone else wrote this, so I suppose that is the best way to get into the subject of this column.

SHARON EGAN
6 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup apple brandy (if served warm)

2 quarts milk
22 small creamer daisies
Beat the yolks and whites of eggs separately. Mix sugar with the yolks and fold apple brandy, if desired. Mix well while beating.

This letter is directed to both county and state officials and these citizens who want to maintain a clean and beautiful county.

Recently while taking a drive into the country, I encountered one of the ugliest sights ever in the Bartonsville/Crooked Creek Road area, in open view from the entrance. Upon viewing the entrance, I found this junkyard to be on an old county road, now blocked by a steel cable. There is a nice elementary school a few hundred feet on the back side of the building. Anyone wishing to visit the cemetery has a steel cable and a maze of cars to overcome.

Another more serious problem is the fluids from these vehicles. How often, until the brake fluid, gas, etc. being dumped off of it is being disposed of at all?

I'm surprised that the people of the community have not already brought this to the attention. It is an incredible eyesore and will probably bring property value to a minimum. Something should be done to investigate this matter before it overflows onto the rest of the county.

I'm proud of the beautiful

The Nicholas County Fire Department has responded to eight grass and brush fires this season. Fire personnel extinguished the blaze on US 60 Friday. Fire Chief Mark Hughes said residents who need to burn trash or other materials should use caution. "It's a dry or windy day, people should wait until conditions are better," said Hughes.
