Moe

He does. Even when it's difficult. The hardest link you take at high school, you take everyday in college. You can't go around with your head down. You gotta keep your head up.

Council

Nicholas County Junior Varsity Football Coach Robert Hopkins commented, "Sounds like a great way to initiate our new program."

For a while, the youth could hardly talk to their UK football mentor. But after hearing Mo talk about studying 20 hours a week and practicing football 20 hours a week and finding out he's a real person, they opened up, said Shirley Collins, federal program bookkeeper of the Nicholas County School System.

Collins and Headquarters neighbor Phillip McDonald brought the UK sophomore to Nicholas County. Mo went to Lexington with McDonald's son Brian. They also attend UK together. Mo got a carpentry job with McDonald building a house in Nicholas County. I wish he would," Collins said Tuesday morning.

Daniel Eubanks, 12, is Collins' grandson. At first Daniel would talk with Mo. They came over in the car together. But he had to be anything for Mo. He likes kids. He wants them to do well. One of the things he said was "You have to be the coach say. Not just what you want to do," Collins said.

superintendent's position, Karen may return to her husband school district, Gilbert said.

Assistant Gilbert in his new duties as a secretary, bookkeeper and treasurer. Since KEBA (Kentucky Education Reform Act) school finances have changed "into an overlapping process of about 18 months."

Stue Johnson had the sole hiring power to name Gilbert to the position. Johnson has been an educator 34 years and has been Nelson County Superintendent 13 years. He was superintendent of Scott County, Johnson is aware Gilbert will continue to seek a superintendent's position. Eventually, if Gilbert gets a city from doing what Conley asked.

"When the city closes a street, the property goes to the adjoining land owners," said Watson. "So if the street is closed, it no longer belongs in the city, and they won't have any say in how it's used."

Moye Ronnie Clark said he and other council members would look at the site, and with the other groups on the problem. "I voted to continue maintenance of two light at the rear of the courthouse," Watson said. "Discussed annexation of property owned by the Nicholas County Board of Education. Discussed the sewage problems caused by BOD waste from the county schools. Clark said superintendent Randy Eury was very receptive to a recent meeting with city officials."
