Band heading

for EKU and

state Class A

RICHMOND - Nicholas County High School will compete in Class A of the 1994 Kenntucky Music Educators Association Marching Bland Championships Saturday, Oct. 29.

Begin at appreximately 9 a.m. at three losations: Madison Gentral High School (A) in Richmond; George Rogers Clark High School (A) in Wintchester, and School (AA) in Wintchester, and School (AA) in Berea.

Preliminary competition at the AAAA level will get under-way at noon at Roy Kidd Stadium at the Eastern Kentucky Uni-versity campus.

NCHS Music Band Director Eric Hale is an EKU graduate. The final round will begin at 7 p.m. at Roy. Kidd Stadium. Previous championship rounds have filled the 20,000 seat fa-cility.

cility.

Nicholas County High School will perform at 2:10 p.m. at Madison Central in preliminary competition that will determine who advances to the finals.
The event, one of the largest of its kind in the country, will feature 92 high school marching bands from all across Kentucky.

"Eastern Kentucky Univer-ity is pleased that we are able conrovide the opportunity to host to provide the opportunity to host this prestigious event," said Dr. Robert Hartwell, director of bands at EKU and contest man-ager. "It contributes to the growth of Kentucky's young musicians."

Bands will compete in groupings based on the number of playing members in each group, with Class A being the smallest and AAAA the largest. The top four bands in each class of preliminary competition will perform in the finals.

The road to the KMEA championships is a long and difficult one for high school marching bands. It begins soon after the New Year when direc-

Bands begin to put together music with drill, and the pol-ishing process begins, at band camp, which can range from one to three weeks in late summer. To earn a spot in the KMEA championships, a band must receive a Superior rating at two KMEA-sanctioned marching competitions around the state competitions around the st from the 70-plus competition scheduled annually.

Both the preliminaries soft the preimmaries an the finals are open to the generic public. Tickets at each of the preliminary sites and for the nals are $4. All tickets go on sal at 8 a.m. at all preliminary site except EKU, where the tick booth will open at 10 a.m. N combo tickets will be sold; twe separate tickets must be pur chased.

Tickets for the final rour will be sold to the capacity of the stadium, which is expected to filled. In addition, 2,500 bleach
