

Carliste Chamber of Commerce notes achievement

By Leigh Stone
 At the dinner meeting, Licha Farah Jr., assistant Nicholas County attorney, Mark Rogers, executive vice president, First National Bank of Carroll, Billy Dale Crawford, publisher of The Nicholas County Journal, Leigh Stone, on-site manager of The Carliste Mercury.

Guest speakers for the evening were The Rev. Kent Duke and Nicholas County Extension Agent John-Mark Hack. The Rev. Duke discussed the importance of community development, area youth and the creation of The Kafe Carliste, a coffee house at 102 West Main and Locust Street.

Duke mentioned the recent efforts of Mayor Ronnie Clark and Carliste City Council, County Judge Executive Chuck Smith and Fiscal Court Magistrates and others involved in helping textile industry flying stitches find a home in Carliste. Duke also commended Johnson-Mark Health Care, the Nicholas County Schools, Tourism Inc. and the Nicholas County Historical Society for all strides made to better the Carliste community. All these efforts indicate to me that Carliste wants to live in the next century and be a vital part of the Commonwealth.

Duke commended the efforts of John-Mark Hack, county 4-H extension agent since October 1994, for helping the area's youth in a worthwhile 4-H program.

Duke thanked everyone involved in the Kafe Carliste project. The coffee house answers a need from area young people. Duke first heard two Chamber of Commerce Directors Ronnie McDonald, Connie Howard and Ann Brierty, elected last year, will begin their second year. The Chamber membership also elected four new directors

Don't let the symptoms of cataracts stop you.

Cataract symptoms include:

- Blurred Vision
- Nighttime glare or halo effect
- Difficulty reading or driving

Cataracts develop gradually in most people so you may go a long time without realizing that you have one. Unfortunately, cataracts occur naturally through aging, affecting many people over 60. We offer the latest in outpatient surgery techniques with "NO STITCH" cataract surgery.
