Junior Honor Society visits local JMHC Nursing Home

The Nicholas County Elementary School National Junior Honor Society got into the Christmas spirit of giving when they visited Johnson Mathers Nursing Home, Thursday, Dec. 14. Savor citizens enjoyed visiting with the teenagers and expressed thanks for the generous gifts.

Students unloaded several boxes of goodies to give in the spirit of Christmas at JMHC nursing home.

Boxes of gifts arrived safely at the nursing home last Thursday.

It was hard to tell who was happier — the gift receivers or the gift givers at Johnson Mathers Nursing Home when the National Junior Honor Society made a holiday visit December 14.

Seniors allowed gifts to stack up on their laps before opening the presents last Thursday.

Students and bus driver Robert McFarland carried in many boxes of goodies to the nursing home.

National Honor Society Advisor Charity Griffin, center, joined students in the gift giving at Johnson Mathers last week.
