NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION FROM 401 KAR 63.005
In accordance with KRS 240-120-270, CSX Transportation, Inc. will request an exemption from the requirements of 401 KAR 63.005, to the extent such regulation applies to the use of rail heating ropes for maintenance of welded or jointed rail. Rail heating ropes are used for certain track repairs, particularly in the cold weather months when rail pull apart under contraction. These repairs are essential to avoid derailments which might be caused by broken rail. Only modest emissions occur from the use of diesel powered rail heating ropes and it does not have a measurable impact on the quality of ambient air. Lateral compliance with 401 KAR 63.005 would prohibit the use of this railroad maintenance device and thus produce a serious hardship upon equal or greater benefit to the public. Alternatives are not practical or efficient. These ropes are an integral part of railroad maintenance and have never, to CSX's knowledge, presented a fire or environmental hazard of the nature contemplated by the regulation.
