Melba Burch named president of Nicholas County Education Foundation

By Leigh Stone
 OF THE CARLETON MERCURY STAFF
CARLETON: Melba Burch, Nicholas County Home Economics Extension Agent, was announced president of the 10-year-old Nicholas County Education Foundation Monday evening.

New officers were announced at a special ceremony hosted by Mayville Community College President Dr. James C. Shires at the Nicholas County School Central Office.

"I want to express my appreciation to everyone whose made the Education Foundation a success," said newly named president Carol Sparks.

Carol Sparks, former chairman, was named vice president. Bob Ginger Biggs named treasurer and Mary Timmins, secretary.

Bill Crawford was named a non-voting member. Members to remain include Carolyn Crockett, Carol Hunt, Carmell Lester, Lanny Hutchison, Dave Letcher and Martha Taylor.

Outgoing members were acknowledged for their contributions. They include Carolyn Dutton, Donna Gail Mattox, Charlene Haller, Tom DeGarmo and Heather Malher-Harris.

MCC's Dr. Shires commented to the members, "Carol sent me some of the things you've done. I was very pleased with the activities and types of things you've done in only two years. You raised some money and been involved in some very nice projects."

After complimenting Sparks on being named to the honorary presidency of MCC, Theresa Kappa, Shires stated, "In just two short years, you've made significant progress in continuing to support the Nicholas County School System. All schools, no matter at what level, need supplemental financial support, the fact is, most schools don't have money to do with your interest, moral and continued support is appreciated."

Shires said he believed it was important for all school systems to do what they can and for the Nicholas County education foundation to provide ongoing success and to look at what it can do and find the result of what it can do. He asked the organization to support the local school superintendent.

"You've gotten a good start in less than two years. You've got a wonderful base established and done some wonderful things and will continue them."

Carla Robinson, RN, of Johnson Maternal Health Care Inc., helped a Certified Sitter student in infant rescue breathing at the bookshop held June 19-20.
