Project Grad: a special ending

By Joyce Booth
Special To The Mercury
It was a special ending for a special year.
The grand finale for 12 years of hard work, 12 years of memories, 12 years of friends and making memories.

What better way to end than by getting together with those friends for an all night party after graduation?
That's what half the senior class of 1995 at Nicholas County High School did.

The Carlsle Mercury-Joyce Booth Photo
John Brown, Robert Reed and Mike Booth enjoyed being classmates. They checked out the activities available at the Mayville YMCA on Graduation Night, sponsored by many Carlisle businesses, parents and community members.

The goal of Project Grad is to give graduating seniors a safe place to have fun with their classmates, win prizes and stay out all night.
The goal of Project Grad is to give graduating seniors a safe place to have fun with their classmates, win prizes and stay out all night.

The shirts were donated by Jockey International and stated, "Class of 1995, NCHS Project Grad."
The students were prepared for the shirts and several were also given for contest winners.

Food, fun and games were on the agenda Grad Night June 11 for the Class of 1995. From (l-r): R. T. Hayes and John Brown with Mike Booth and Curt Carpenter in the background checked out the fruit/vegetable dessert table that was kept till all night. Grad Night, supported mainly by local Carlisle businesses, gives seniors a night of drug-free fun after graduation ceremonies each year. Teacher Karla Allison is the sponsor.
