Dear Diane

DEAR DIANE: I have to say that I was very surprised to have found your column addressed to me. Scared? I want to thank you, Diane, for making it possible for me to read that someone out there has felt my pain.

I would also like to address this to "Ben There" and I would like to thank her for sharing her story with me. I want to tell this lady that I appreciate all of her kind words and her effort to give me some hope. Truth is, life is hard for me. I am a young woman trying to find my way in a world that is so full of so many surprises that I don't know how to pull me down. There are days when I feel like I'll never get through, but before I know it, the day is over and I'm back to my regular life. In all, I just had to write to "Ben There" to tell her that her words are seeing me through. I've read her letter over and over and I feel good knowing someone sees my heart.

I wish "Ben There" continued success and happiness. Maybe somewhere down my long road ahead of me, I will meet you. May God bless you always!

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: You often, we hear only the horror stories of people leaving a diet or not eating but after all and there's hope for us as a species!
