SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The weeks just ahead will bring major business developments. Some could even find themselves contemplating a complete career change. This week, you have the urge to redecorate your home. Don't allow weekend tension to escalate into an argument.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A new cultural interest could fascinate you in the weeks ahead. Also, a new adviser could be coming into your life very soon. Enjoy social visits now, but avoid a romantic spat with a jealous lover this weekend.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You'll have more money at your disposal in the weeks ahead. However, don't allow your gregarious side to lead you into too much spending on pleasure. You still need to watch your pennies. You have a product work on the job.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You could be signing an important contract in the near future. However, a competitor is right on your heels and needs to be dealt with. Matters at a distance are favored, but keep peace with the family.

Dear Diane

by Diane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE:

I am 26 years old. My husband was married before and they have a child whom I love deeply. His ex-wife is remarried with a new baby.

I am writing to you for an unbiased opinion. This couple has been in our business from day one. The family knows and they've said what kind of person she is. However, I think they're afraid of her keeping her daughter from them, so they're kind to her. What bothers me is, the ex, her husband and children are always invited to my husband's family functions. The family knows how we feel, but they've told us to get used to it.

When I talked to the ex to try to explain, she kept my stepdaughter away from me. I cried for days! I don't understand the way of dealing with this is to stay away from those functions and not to say too much. So, we have. But the family gets mad because we don't come and don't understand why. They think I'm keeping my husband away from them.

The family and I have had a falling out and my sister-in-law is trying to turn this around. What really hurts is, I loved his betrayed with all my heart and now I feel betrayed.

BETRAYED

DEAR BETRAYED:

To be blunt, you are allowing his family to ride roughshod over you. They sound like a bunch of callus, uncaring, unfeeling, insensitive people and you're well rid of them. They should have respected the wishes of your husband and you concerning his ex. There is no reason she should attend family functions. Your stepdaughter could attend with her father and you. She doesn't need her mother there.

My advice is, stand your ground and stop trying to convince his to his family. What's important is your relationship with your husband — period.
