Church Corner

The following is an article written by a local church official, and does not necessarily reflect the views or opinions held by The Carlisle Mercury or Park Communications, Inc.

As we read the Bible, in the book of Micah 6:8, we receive the God's requirements. "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." The prophet Micah askes some important questions leading up to the answer in verse 8. With what attitudes or deeds does God expect from us when we come into His presence. It is important to know what someone expects of you especially when it has to do with eternity.

If we are to please God, which ought to always be our aim in life, we need to do what God instructs us to do. "Do Justly." This refers to our dealings with men and women in our every day living. We must learn to imitate God in all that we do. This includes truth, sincerity, and honesty.

1. There is civil justice. Existing between rulers and people. Those in authority over us have been put in those position by God. Christ clearly taught this by saying 'Render unto Ceasar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." (Matthew 22:21).

2. There is comercial justice. The man or woman of God must deal with integrity in the market place, which includes buyer and seller. We must not take advantage of the ignorance or inexperience of person. We never need misunderstand this principle when we hear the words of Jesus, 'Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, doy eeven so to them, for this is the law and the prophets." (Matthew 7:12).

3. There is justice in relationships. This includes parents and children, brothers and sisters, neighbors and friends. Now, to 'do justly,' must be the constant and unchanging rule in all that we say or do, at all times and in all places.

If we are to please God, we also must love mercy. This includes,

1. Kindness to the poor and wretched. The poor, the stranger, the widow, and the fatherless, are never to be forgotten. In Psalm 41:1, it says, "Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble." Paul the apostle says in Galatians 2:10, "We should remember the poor.

2. Compassion toward our enemies. This is hard because it doesn't come natural. Romans 12:17 says, "Recompense to no man evil for evil."

3. Unconditional love towards all men and women. We need to be ready to do good to all men and women, interested in all, pray for all.

If we are to be faithful to God, walk humbly with our God.

1. We can do this by realizing who God is and who we are apart from Christ. There is both natural pride and spiritual pride. Both are not pleasing to God.

2. By praising God for his divine perfection and glorifing Him for them.

If we would live by the text, we must conclude;

1. The work for God must be our rule.

2. The spirit of God, our guide.

3. The example of Christ, our model.

4. Prayer to God, our constant exercise.
