Hughes brings home big game

Mark Hughes took a hunting trip to the Double D Ranch in McArthur, Ohio and came home with a little more than he expected.

Hughes, who is also the Nicholas County Fire Chief, left on March 20, for a hunting trip with a friend and two acquaintances from Louisville to enjoy three days of hunting in the woods and the great outdoors.

While spending time at the lodge located at the ranch, Hughes had heard other men talking of an animal known as the Spanish Goat. Hughes decided if he got lucky enough to see the goat, he would definitely bring one home. And that's what he did. Along with a 210 pound wild boar.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am very pleased with the Industrial Authority appointments these folks bring a great deal of knowledge with them to the authority. It is my hope that the city will complete their appointment process as soon as possible. I hope the funds are available so they can improve the water situation.

We need to work as close as possible with the counties around us. For example, if someone comes to Carlisle and can't locate here due to some factor, don't let them get out of the area. Be a good neighbor and ask them to look at the counties around us.

I need to also make a comment that will let us think about the future. Nicholas County at present day is much like a number of mountain counties about twenty years ago. We have a great deal in common with our mountain neighbors. Much of our land is owned by people who don't live here. If a person or family who owns a business dies, or due to illness, must quit, as a general rule, that business is gone forever. We don't have the population or money to continue and grow.

Our area produces some fine young people. Just look at some of the accomplishments in the Mercury each week. We are an area that offers them little hope of being able to stay here. It is
