Moorefield Homemakers meet

The Moorefield Homemakers Club met April 4 at the home of Nettie Barnes with 10 members answering the roll by giving a landscape tip.

Alma Curtis, President, presided. The devotional was given by Lucille Clark, using Scripture Psalm 13:10. "Create in me a clean heart, O God and renew a right spirit within me" and Psalm 118:24 "This is the day which the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it."

Headquarters Homemakers meet

The Headquarters Homemakers met Tuesday, April 2nd at the Extension Office.

The meeting was called to order by President Betty Cleaver. Devotional was given by Joannette Walker. Roll call was answered by 11 members. Minutes of the March meeting were read and approved. Treasurers report was given by Hazel Moore. The annual meeting was discussed. It is scheduled for April 25th. Our club is responsible for the program. The International Banquet will be on May 6th. Both meetings will be held at the Carlele Christian Church.

Plans were discussed for our next meeting to be May 7th. Lucille Feedback will take the lesson on minerals in your diet to be given April 15th at the Extension Office.

Della Stone presented the lesson on KY Arts and Crafts. Nearly a century ago KY and Western North Carolina led the way in using crafts as a tool for social reform and economic support.

Leta Allison led in our recreation time. Prizes were won by Betty Cleaver and Della Stone.

The meeting was adjourned.

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY • COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

National Drinking Water Week is coming up May 5-11, and the Environmental and Natural Resources Issues Task Force of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service is promoting the month of May as Kentucky Water Awareness Month. In anticipation of Kentucky Water Awareness Month, this column will devote the next three weeks to raising the "water awareness" here in Nicholas County.

Nearly 97% of the earth's water is in the oceans and seas, and the remaining three percent, what we call fresh water, nearly two-thirds is locked in the polar caps and glaciers. The other one-third is in the atmosphere, ground lakes and rivers. It is latter third which meets all human water needs, including drinking water and industrial uses. Americans draw about 420 billion gallons of water per day from ground and surface water supplies, but most of that is used for irrigation and industrial use. About 30 billion gallons per day, or 130 gallons per person each day, is treated and delivered for public use. Here in Kentucky, each person uses an average of 68 gallons of water each day. Here are some other interesting tid-bits about water use:

"One-fourth of our nation's recreational activities are water based."

"The average person will drink close to 16,000 gallons of water in a lifetime."

"About 81% of fresh water supplies are used for irrigation purposes."

"It takes about 120 gallons of water to produce an egg."

"An average toilet flush uses 5 to 7 gallons of water per flush."

The one who gets the most eggs wins! This JMC resident had a great time looking for and grabbing Easter eggs made of construction paper at the nursing home on Friday.

While some of these tid-bits are interesting, you should be aware of some water saving information related to our water use. About half of residential water use is outside the home, in lawns and plants. As folks here in Nicholas County prepare their garden spots and begin their annual cycle of lawns, here are a few practices which can help conserve our water supplies and save you money.

As the weather warms, it is sure to tempt you to water in the early morning hours. This practice will prevent water loss through evaporation and will avoid scorching your plants. It also helps to prevent the growth of fungus, which can quickly develop during the cooler, damper evening hours.

Don't clean your driveway, steps or sidewalk with a hose. You can use up to 150 gallons of water in just ten minutes of cleaning with a water hose. Use a broom instead.

When washing your car, turn the hose off except when you are rinsing. Or, use a hose nozzle that has an automatic shut-off saving water and saving money.
