Life Stories part of Johnson Mathers Nursing Home event schedule

By Ronann Jolly
 Of The Carlisle Mercury Staff

One of the many events at the Nicholas County Johnson Mathers Nursing Home is called Life Stories. Life Stories is a series of reminiscing things and events from the past such as relationships, favorite places to go and things to do. The residents have four colored cards to pick from: red which is valuable, green is ethings, purple is memories and yellow is all memories. Each card has a question and the resident must answer the best they can. The cards are excellent for the residents' recall skills.

Sean Blackburn, social worker at the nursing home, directs a game known as "Life Stories" for residents of the facility.
