Decisions on jail need to be made
 The dilemma in which the Fiscal Court now finds itself in order to support the jail and jailer should not surprise anyone. A few years back the State Authorities were inspecting and condemning the old jails throughout the State and the results would be many bad political decisions.

"In the beginning, this jail condemning by the State was no more than Political Power for the defunct Frankfort Group."
 In the beginning this jail condemning by the State was no more than a political power grab allowing more Political Power for the defunct Frankfort Group. The Counties around Kentucky fell for this and all poorer Counties fell in line and now are feeling the results of lack of decision by them.
