The board was then approached by several Nicholas County School teachers and two representatives from the Kentucky Education Association. Roxanne Bow, speaking on behalf of the teachers, petitioned the board to take into consideration the $500 cost of living increase suggested by the Kentucky State Legislature and Governor Paul Patton.
According to District Education Association and State Senator, Denny Nunneley, funding for the increase has been provided by legislation passed in Frankfort earlier this year.
According to Nunneley, the legislature's intent was to give teachers a cost of living increase of $1,775 over a two-year period.

Finances
With this year's allotment being an amount of $509, After Bow opened the floor to questions board member Ricky Hicks asked the teachers would prefer an across the board percentage increase or the $509 allotted by the State.
No word responding to "No, we would prefer the $509 cost of living increase."
Kerry Ross, also a teacher at Nicholas County, reiterated Bow's comments with information handed out to each board member, the Superintendent, and other persons present at the meeting.

Finances
The board then decided to table any further discussion of financial matters, including the cost of living increases for teachers until questions could be answered concerning what money is available to the school system.
After a representative from the Kentucky Department of Education has reviewed the financial reports and receipts, another special meeting of the board will be called. Board members will then take up the issues of payment of bills and cost of living increases for teachers.
