Site Based.....

Bill Guthrie, Director of Special Education with the Nicholas County School System and sending a referral to the board of education for a trained para professional to help relieve the load for Hamm. The current limit for Hamm is no more than 50-60 kids scheduled for the speech classes. The current number she has enrolled is 75, with the need greatly increasing. In the next five years the demand will be even greater according to the recent policy adopted by the general assembly, according to Smith.

The Nicholas County Schools Drug Policy will be sent back to the drug committee for revision of the policy to adapt to elementary needs. The drug committee sent the policy for approval by the N.C.E.S. Site Base Council last month, after approval by the N.C.H.S. Site Base Council.

Board .....

temporarily lifted a hiring freeze for a computer instructor at the elementary school. The position is for one year only. A certified instructor will be paid from carry-over funds allocated from to the Nicholas County Elementary Site-Base Council in the 1995-96 school year. The hiring freeze remains in full force and effect.

The next regular school board meeting is scheduled for Monday, September 16, at 7:00 p.m. at the central office.

Laura's Life

by: Laura Fryman

I have heard so many people say that this person does this and that, and it is wrong. Well who are we to judge people in what they do and say.

If a persons customs are different, we have a tendancy to say their ways are wrong. Well, if every body was alike in this world wouldn't it be a boring place to live?

My mother has always said, "people in glass houses should not throw stones." Well wake up people and put down your stones! There is only one person that can judge, and that is the Lord above. If people ever thought about the scripture; Ye that has no sin let him cast the first stone, maybe they would think twice before ridiculing a person or just down right being mean to them.

We, as a society, should never judge a person on their beliefs or the way their family lives. Treat a person like you want to be treated. There is not one person alive that should have to answer for the way somebody else chooses to live their lives. If the father of the household drinks, that does not mean that the whole house hold behaves that way.

The way we are brought up has a lot to do with the way we do things as adults. Our morals might be different than others, so that might be the difference in our lives, but that does not mean we are better than someone else.

If you bring your kids up to think they are better than others, isn't this world going to be a bad place to live when they get to be adults.

JMHC offers specialty services

While federal and state governments continue to struggle with the issue of health reform, forces have already started changing the way in which people receive health care. Ironically, medicine is moving from the hospital to the home in much the same way as physicians used to make house calls years ago.

Consider the following changes:

•Outpatient specialty services at Nicholas County Hospital have doubled in the last year.

•Inpatient hospital services have been gradually receding in almost every small hospital in the country.

•Home care has been one of the fastest growing businesses in the health care industry.

In part, the demands of health insurance companies on hospitals to lower costs have forced many of these changes..to-gradually appear, but the move toward change has grown more rapid since Medicare and Medicaid programs have made similar demands for shorter hospital stays, outpatient surgery, and greater use of lower cost outpatient services.

In response to these changes Nicholas County Hospital has doubled its number of outpatient specialty services in the past year and a half and is working diligently to expand to other areas of outpatient service.

New services include:
•Opthalmology
•Pulmonary Medicine
•Neurosurgery
and most recently:
•Otolaryngology (ENT)

In addition to the added convenience and cost savings of these specialties available in the community, they are also provided by very highly qualified physicians. Pulmonary Medicine and Otolaryngology, for example, are both sponsored by physicians at the University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center.

The advantage of having these services available in the local community is obvious.

"It is far more convenient, not to mention cheaper, to get outpatient medical services in your hometown than make complicated plans to receive them in places 30-45 minutes out of the way," commented Steve Hirschberg, JMHC respiratory therapist whose services are mostly outpatient.

In most cases, an outpatient visit involves a short wait, an examination, and its over. Given a normal person's busy schedule, eliminating an hour-long drive through traffic is a blessing.

JMHC plans to add other outpatient services in the near future, but is open with any type of business or service - it must be used if it is to stay.

Saltwell News

By Mrs. Fred Hollar

Mrs. Tracy Allison and John Lee were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hollar, Gary and John also visited Mrs. Gladys Kenney in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Brady attended the Brady Reunion at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brady of Headquarters Road on Sunday.

Mrs. Edith Watts of Hillsboro, North Carolina spent the past ten days with Rev. and Mrs. Howard Livingood and family.

Word was received on Sunday that Mr. Sherman Green of Hooktown passed away early Sunday morning at Lexington Manor after a long illness. Funeral arrangements were incomplete at the time of this writing.

Mrs. Jeff Tomlin, here at Saltwell received word on Sunday morning of the death of grandfather Mr. Kenneth Craycraft had passed away on Sunday morning at Humana Hospital after a long illness. He was 72 years of age and funeral arrangements were incomplete at the time of this writing.

Several from this area attended the Annual Fall Festival of Country and Gospel Music at Carter Cave Lake and Lodge near Carter Cave. Musicians were there from many other states and everyone really enjoyed the days spent there.

A very large crowd attended visitation on Wednesday night and funeral of Mr. W.G. Flora at Mathers-Gaunce Funeral Home on Thursday evening by Rev. Tony Smith and burial in Carlisle Cemetery.

Mr. Stanley Caswell accompanied Mr. H. A. Gaunce to his Doctor in Lexington on Thursday. Mr. Gaunce is not so well at this time.

Our community extends sympathy to the family of Jerry Collins who passed away Tuesday at Markey Cancer Center in Lexington after a long illness. Visitation was at Clark Funeral Home in Carlisle on Thursday night and graveside services were held on Friday afternoon by Rev. Kevin Thomas. Burial was in Carlisle Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hollar were in Lexington Clinic on Tuesday to consult with her eye doctor.

Headquarters Homemakers meet

The Headquarters Homemakers met Tuesday, September 3, 1996 at the Nicholas Co-op Extension Office.

Devotion was given by Betsy Cleaver. Roll call was answered by 13 members each telling about their first year at school. The treasurers report was given by Hazel Moore and our dues were collected.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Nicholas County is to host the area meeting to be held on Friday, October 4, 1996 at the Worthington Center. Each club is asked to furnish four dozen muffins plus eight large loaves of different kinds of breads.

A delicious lunch was served by our hostesses, Hazel Moore, Lucille Hillock and Marie Lawrence. Lucille Feehack gave the lesson on Shaker legacy. During their flourishing years the Pleasant Hill Shakers led the state in scientific farming with their cattle and the development of agriculture implements. The sale of flat brooms, garden seeds, herbs and preserves throughout the midwest and south made the Shaker name a hallmark of excellence. Recreation was led by Betsy and the prize was won by Jeanette Wallace. The meeting was adjourned.

Our next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 1, at 10:30 a.m. at the Nicholas County Extension Office. We will eat lunch at a restaurant.

Taking The Sting Out Of Diabetes

(NAPS)—According to the American Diabetes Association, there are 16 million Americans with diabetes. Of these, 800,000 (five percent) are insulin dependent.

God news for them is the availability of an advanced injection system that doesn't use needles. The Activa family of "Advanced Needle-Free Injection Systems" is a revolutionary alternative for diabetes management.

A brochure about the Advanced Jet is available free by calling 1-800-991-4464.
