Nicholas County Cancer Coalition gives reasons why women don't get mammograms newly formed coalition can do.

According to Linville:

Only one-fourth of all Medicare eligible women in Nicholas County get regular ammograms.

Only 3.4 percent of all adicaid recipients in Nicholas

Medicaid recipients in Nicholas County get mammograms. Kathy Carroll of the Ken-tucky Cancer Program made a brief, general presentation, about the function of a coalition. Nicholas County Home Eco-nomics Extension Agent Kay Cormelison said Carroll sharpd her enthusiam at the amount of interest the county has shown to work together with the coal-to work together with the coalition.

With Education listed as the number one reason for the lack of women seeking many the coality of the coa sometimes don't put themselves first, denial of its occurrence, cultural constraints, fear of di-agnosis, lack of adequate com-munication services, perceived costs, fear of procedure, lack of a network among organizations,
