Cassinda Bechanan

JMHC names new Director of Volunteers

Attention Family and Friends of JMHC. There is a new and friendly face you will want to get to know soon at Johnson Mathers Health Care, Inc. Join us in welcoming Cassinda Bechanan, who started work last month as JMHC's new Director of Volunteer Services

Cassinda is starting a new life for herself in Nicholas County. Earlier this year, she married Doug Bechanan, the Agriculture Teacher and FFA Advisor at Nicholas County High School. She is no stranger to Nicholas County folks at all. She is well acquainted with teachers at Nicholas County as well as with the local Extension agent Mike Phillips.

We are very happy to welcome Cassinda to the community and she, in turn, is excited about the opportunity to apply her retail experience to overseeing the gift shop and working with the Nicholas County Health Care Auxiliary. She is also developing ideas for new JMHC volunteer programs.

"It is an honor to be able to work with such dedicated people. Ginny Kingsolver, Dorothy Kimberling, and all the members of the Auxiliary have built a great program.

"I hope to continue to build on their tradition of service. In addition, I hope to work with others in the community on volunteer programs. I feel that the youth of Nicholas County need the opportunity to experience volunteerism in their own community. By creating programs that involve young people, everyone benefits.

"Volunteer programs provide students with a sense of ownership in their community," Cassinda Bechanan commented.

Cassinda brings a wealth of education and experience to her new position. She is community minded and has an impressive list of leadership roles behind her.

Her credits include work with the Children's Miracle Network, God's Closet, Chrysalis House, the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging Foundation, and many more community outreach programs in her hometown of Danville and with the Junior League of Lexington.

She graduated from the University of Kentucky with a double major in Agriculture and Communications. She is also pursuing a Master's Degree in Agriculture Education.

Miss Sparks is a graduate of Scott County High School and attended Midway College. She is employed at St. Joe Children Center in Lexington.

Mr. Small is a graduate of Bourbon County High School and Transylvania University. He is employed at The Medicine Shoppe/Home Care in Georgetown.

The wedding will be held at the Worthington Center in Blue Licks State Park at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 11, 1997.

Hunting, fishing expo at Falmouth

The third annual Hunting and Fishing and Outdoor Expo returns to the Pendleton County Fairgrounds Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, August 15, 16 and 17, 1997. The event covers a variety of outdoor pursuits and will include seminars and activities for the whole family.

This year's activities include fly fishing demonstrations, bow hunting seminars, fur trapping, kayaking and rafting demonstrations, animal exhibits, golf seminars and a "Casting Kids" contest. Knight & Hale will have their famous "live " deer show, and other expert hunters and anglers will give seminars on the finer techniques of their sports.

Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources wildlife and boating officers will be on hand to answer and participate in the activities. The League of Kentucky Sportsmen, Kentucky Taxidermy Association and the Kentucky Division of Water will be represented.

The world famous "Hawg" Trough will undoubtedly be a favorite. Also, Kentucky Afield's Tim Farmer, bowhunting expert Miles Keller and bass tournament pros Keith Harney and Debbie Taylor are just a few of the stars giving instructional seminars at the Expo.

The Little Rock Christian Church plans a full weekend of activities and programs for teens, young adults and adults.

Little Rock Christian Church is located at 3052 Cane Ridge Road, Highway 537, Paris, Ky.. Contact Rosalie Rawlings for more information at (606) 383-4494 or 383-4374.

FACTS and FIGURES

(NAPS)—How many pounds of chicken do you eat in a year? Ten, 15, 20? That's nothing to crow about. In 1996, the customers of one popular chain, famous for its spicy and mild flavored fried chicken, ate 151,000,000 pounds of chicken. This year, Popeyes Chicken & Biscuits, the chain founded in 1972 in New Orleans, celebrates its 25th anniversary. The restaurant chain is responsible for introducing America to the unique, wonderful flavors of Cajun and New Orleans style cooking. Here are some other fun facts about Popeyes that may go down well with food lovers.

* * *

Customers ate 4,500,000 pounds of rice, 16,000,000 pound of red beans and 20,000,000 pounds of fries last year.

* * *

Contrary to popular belief, the name of the chain is not based on the name of a character in a movie, not the famous cartoon character, this famous restaurant chain is responsible for introducing America to the unique flavors of Cajun and New Orleans-style cooking.
