Farmer Nicholas County School Superintendent Robert Gilbert's retirement is effective from the Nicholas County Schools as of June 30.

student and daughter, Candace, a Morehead State University student. Gilbert's had 23 years in administration and 18 spent in the central office. Two worked before K&E and after K&E, he noted.

Gilbert was Nicholas County School superintendent for one term ending in 1994. He then returned to the Nicholas County Schools. There, he works with legal matters, the budget, finances, and is liaison between the board and the school's state based decision making council. "It's not really a retirement as I intend to keep my options open," Gilbert told The Mercury Tuesday afternoon. "This is my 27th year in education and I'm 48 years old. I've been accepted by the UK Doctoral Program. But I'd like to get a superintendent job in Eastern Kentucky. I could freeze my retirement at any time and continue to work."

Gilbert's wife is also looking for a teaching position in Eastern Kentucky in the couple can be more clear to their son, John, a University of Kentucky law

Doris Payne, right, shows her 20-year award and tray, a 20-year service award, presented to her by C&A Department Manager Janice Pryor.

Caswell, Shroat, retire from Jockey

Wanda Shroat and Dolores Caswell retired from Jockey the first of May after many years of dedicated service. Wanda, Quality Control Manager of Kentucky Operations, gave 43 years of her life to the company which started out as Griffin, changed to Blumgrass

Corrections

Nicholas County School Treasurer Faye Robinson said at the May board meeting that the back reconciliation was in balance. The paper mistakenly stated the budget was in balance. Last Robinson isn't in charge of the budget. The Courier-Journal regrets the error.

Stephen Hopkins on Hamden-Sydney dean's list

Stephen G. Hopkins, a sophomore at Hamden-Sydney College, is one of 155 students named to the Dean's List at the end of the second semester of the 1996-1997 academic year. To earn this distinction, a student must achieve at least a 3.3 semester grade point average out of a possible 4.0. Mr. Hopkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hopkins of Carlinville, Ky.
