

President orders disaster relief for surrounding counties No word whether Nicholas eligible

Nicholas County Ambulance Service Randy Howard and Stephanie Ring and volunteer Bill Sosby surveyed the flood damage at Dee Jays Auto Parts Saturday afternoon.

WASHINGTON The head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) announced today that federal disaster aid has been made available to people in most flood-ravaged north-central Kentucky counties, including Nicholas. President Clinton's major disaster declaration issued Tuesday afternoon.

FEMA Director James Lee Witt said the President ordered the assistance immediately following a review of the agency's analysis of the state's expedited request for federal aid. The declaration covers damage from severe storms, tornadoes and flooding that struck the state beginning last Saturday, March 5.

Witt said the President's action clears the way for the use of federal funds to help meet the recovery needs of the counties. He will operate from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week EST until further notice.

Glenn Woodard, of FEMA's regional office in Atlanta, Ga., said the federal relief effort, Woodard said that affected residents and business owners in the designated counties can begin the disaster application process beginning Wednesday, March 6, by calling 1-800-462-9029.

The toll-free telephone number will operate from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week EST until further notice. Blue Bluffs was one of the hardest hit by the flood in Nicholas County.

Flood water raged near Garrett's Furniture and Lee Lynn Machining located on South Elm, downtown Carlisle on Saturday afternoon.

Patty and Scott Iovino double wide home, underwater, left, was engulfed and destroyed by flood waters on U. S. 58 at Blue Bluffs on Sunday. The photo was taken 1 p.m. Sunday from the bridge on U.S. 58. Blue Bluffs was one of the hardest hit by the flood in Nicholas County.

Downtown Carlisle receives damages from Saturday flood

This photo, taken by Carlisle Southern States, in Dorseyville on Dorsey Avenue, shows Stephanie Ring of the Nicholas County Ambulance Service and another worker rescuing a baby, the son of Stephanie Bloomfield and Darren Bullock from their home on Dorsey Avenue Saturday afternoon. All the homes in that area on the side toward Moorefield were flooded on Saturday.

Federal aid to help flood recovery

The following is a summary of key federal disaster aid programs that can be made available as needed under President Clinton's major disaster declaration issued for Kentucky on Tuesday, March 4.

- Assistance for Affected Individuals and Families Can Include as Required:
 - Rental payments for temporary housing for those whose homes are uninhabitable. Initial assistance is provided for up to three months for homeowners and at least one month for renters. Assistance may be extended if requested after the initial period based on a review of individual applicant requirements. (Source: FEMA funded and administered)
 - Grants for minimal repairs not covered by insurance to make damaged homes habitable. (Source: FEMA funded and administered)
 - Grants to help meet medical, funeral, transportation and other serious disaster-related needs not covered by insurance or other federal, state and charitable aid programs. Typical grants average about $2,500. (Source: FEMA funded at 75 percent of total eligible costs; state administered)
 - Unemployment payments up to 26 weeks for workers who temporarily lost jobs because of the disaster and who not qualify for state benefits, such as self-employed individuals. (Source: FEMA funded, state administered)
 - Low interest loans to cover private property losses not fully compensated by insurance. Loans available up to $200,000 for primary residence; $40,000 or personal property, including renter losses. Loans available up to $1.5 million for business property losses not fully compensated by insurance. (Source: U. S. Small Business Administration)
 - Loans up to $1.5 million for small businesses that have suffered disaster-related cash flow problems and need funding for working capital to recover from the disaster's adverse economic impact. This loan in combination with a property loss loan cannot exceed a total of $1.5 million. (Source: U. S. Small Business Administration)
 - Loans up to $500,000 for farmers, ranchers, and aquaculture operators to cover production and property losses, excluding primary residence. (Source: Rural Economic and Community Development Services, formerly the Farmers Home Administration; U. S. Dept. of Agriculture)
 - Other relief programs. Crisis counseling for those traumatized by the disaster, income tax assistance for filing casualty losses; advisory assistance for legal, veterans benefits and social security programs.

How To Apply:

- Affected individuals, families and business owners in the counties designated for federal aid can begin the disaster relief application process on Wednesday, March 6, by calling 1-800-462-9029.

Physical Therapy Center of Grayson

WHAT IS THE EDUCATIONAL PREPARATIONS FOR PHYSICAL THERAPIST?

This is not a question answered easily or correctly by most individuals in today's society.

Physical therapists are college graduates with such prerequisite degrees as psychology, biology, physics, statistics, chemistry, English, professional writing, and mathematics. Once they have completed a well-rounded basic college education, it is time for them to apply to an accredited physical therapy program of their choice.

Accepted into a physical therapy program, the student is extensively schooled in such fields as human anatomy and physiology, lifespan, neuroanatomy, and many other medically related courses. While in the program, the student will have many opportunities to apply and integrate classroom learned theories into practice through extensive clinical education offered through a variety of practical settings. Clinicals are scheduled periodically throughout the PT program for student in order to give them a large amount of hands on experience prior to graduation.

Depending upon the school chosen and the level of education of the program, the student will have advanced a Bachelor's Degree or a Master's Degree in Physical Therapy. The opportunity is open to them at this time, to continue their education and obtain a PhD in physical therapy.
