KSP Investigates Labor Day Circumstances
Trooper Jan Wachter, Kentucky State Police director of Public Affairs, issued the following reports to The Mercury Tuesday afternoon.

Trooper Brett Kirkland investigated an injury crash at 6:40 p.m. Aug. 30 on Ky 57, one-half mile north of Morefield. The driver was Whitney Webb, 18, of Carlinville, driving a 1985 Ford.

Trooper Brian Stephens charged Chester Spill, 50, of Carlinville, with DUI 1st offense, not wearing a seatbelt, no insurance and he had a call at 1:02 a.m. Aug. 30. Passenger Tracy Vice, 35, of Carlinville, and Kelly Heffler, 24, of Flemington, were both charged with alcohol intoxication. All were turned over to the Transportation Officer.

Remember when
A man and his dog were found in the files of The Carlinville Mercury. Can you identify these two? Call The Merc and let us know at 289-2464.

Student of the Week
Sharon Buckler is this week's Student of the Week. She is the daughter of Brenda and Clay Buckler of Carlinville.

Buckler is a junior at Nicholas County High School.

Sharon likes to draw and paint scenery in her spare time.

Upon high school graduation she would like to study to become a psychologist, a D. J. and a writer.

"Those are my three main goals in life. I met Mark Horton, a former D. J. at Lexington's 100 FM in my eighth grade year. I got to be on the air and, last year, I thought of becoming a psychologist. I want to help kids and people."

Smokers responsible for their own health

Dear Editor
Anyone who thinks the tobacco companies are responsible for the health problems caused by smoking is just plain stupid. The only responsible party is the smoker themselves and no one else.
