Medicaid plight hurts Nicholas County citizens

Several vow to help local pharmacies get rules changed

By Leigh Stone
Managing Editor
Several local pharmacists are vowing to help local pharmacies get rules changed regarding Medicaid reimbursement.

"If he goes, I won't take my medicine. I'm used to him. He explains everything to me."

The days of personal care are disappearing. Medicaid patients are being treated like numbers.

BACKGROUND: Elderly, young both to suffer with new Medicaid program

By Leigh Stone
Managing Editor
The elderly and the young will be hurt the most by the new Medicaid program.

These with a card with a yellow stripe across the card are affected recipients should also have a gold wallet card from Kentucky Health Services.

EARLY PUBLIC NOTICE

FLOODPLAIN AND WETLANDS PROTECTION
Development Project
The City of Carlisle is considering a project to redevelop the Spring Street and Dorsey Ave. area of Carlisle. The project will include the acquisition of eighteen parcels, demolition of fifteen structures and rehabilitation of five structures. Public facility improvements will include a park, road improvements, sidewalk construction and drainage improvements. Portions of the project area are located within the 100-year floodplain. The project will be funded with Kentucky Community Development Block Grant funds and local funds. To view the road improvements and drainage improvements, it will be necessary to carry out some construction activities within the 100-year floodplain of Branchy Fork. The city is interested in discussing alternatives to the project as well as possible mitigation measures. Please send written comments to Ronnie Clark, Mayor at 197 East Chestnut Street, Carlisle, Kentucky 40311. Comments should be received until January 30, 1998.

Christmas House, etc.

To Vera Bradley Customers
On January 5, 1998, Vera Bradley Designs announced price increases on all of their products, including the Hoodlum (#100) and Wallie (#221). In appreciation, and as a gesture to our valued customers, we will be offering these two items at special prices until January 28. Therefore, you can purchase in-stock (only) bags at 25% off the 1997 prices through January 28.

Customer Appreciation

Hose Bradley, Inc. won the Whittaker Bank of Carlisle's "Put O' Gold" drawing last Friday, January 9, as Customer Appreciation Month. At right is secretary Lisa Walling. Each Friday another prize winner will be selected at random.

Students of the Week

This week's Students of the Week are Crystal Robinson and Amber Smith. Both are students at Nicholas County High School. Robinson is the daughter of William and Brenda Robinson. Smith is the daughter of Jillian and Melinda Smith. They were nominated for this honor by Ron Baker, assistant principal. "They are very helpful in the office and in my class," he said. Robinson is an honor student. She likes to shop and read and spend time with friends.
