Student Exchange program is accepting applications

American Intercultural Student Exchange is accepting applications from families who are interested in hosting a high school age foreign exchange student for the upcoming school year. Families may choose to host a student for one or two semesters.

These high school students, all proficient in the English language, will arrive in the United States in August and attend high schools while living as members of their American host families. All AISE students have completed a lengthy screening and interview process with representatives in their home countries and come highly recommended by their English teachers.

Host families provide students with a bed, meals, and a loving family atmosphere. The students all have medical insurance and spending money for the duration of their stay. Families and students are provided with a representative that is available to answer questions and provide counseling support throughout the exchange experience.

Each year, thousands of families across the United States host AISE exchange students. AISE currently works with high school students from over 40 countries worldwide. AISE is a nationwide, non-profit educational foundation dedicated to the belief that foreign student exchange is a vital step toward peace among all nations. For further information on hosting a student in your home, please call 1-800-SIBLING or visit the AISE web site at http/www.ailing.org.

The Buzz On Bug Bites

"NAPS)—A mild winter, coupled with a rainy spring, has produced an unusually buggy season all across the United States. Experts have predicted near record levels of mosquitoes and other biting insects.

Is it possible to avoid bug bites? Sure. Mosquitoes are attracted to body heat, perspiration, and carbon dioxide. So, when you go outdoors, don't move, don't sweat, and don't breathe out!

Seriously, though, pesky insects can take a lot of the fun out of summer. Their bites produce welts, which are an allergic reaction to the insect's venom or saliva. But you can take a few precautions so you don't attract mosquitoes, ticks, chiggers and other "creepy crawlums":

- Don't wear perfume or other scented products.
- Wear light, solid colors instead of bright or dark colors.
- Wear shoes and socks when hiking in fields.
- Don't sit directly on the ground.

At picnics, keep food covered. Because scratching a bite could lead to infection, you should carry anti-itch medication, such as Tri-Nu-X with you. Use it promptly, especially on children who tend to scratch a bite until it bleeds. Be careful of products with bentocaine, hydrocortisone, or antihistamines. They may set up allergic skin reactions or produce other irritating side effects in some people.

EDWARD B. HATCHETT, JR.
AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

To the People of Kentucky
Honorable Paul E. Patton, Governor
John P. McCarty, Secretary
Finance and Administration Cabinet
Sarah Jane Schaaf, Secretary, Revenue Cabinet
Honorable Charles Smith, County Judge/Executive
Members of the Nicholas County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets, liabilities, and fund balances arising from cash transactions of Nicholas County, Kentucky, as of June 30, 1997, and the related statement of cash receipts, cash disbursements, and changes in cash balances for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Nicholas County Fiscal Court. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, Audits of State and Local Governments, and the Audit Guide for Fiscal Court Audits issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Nicholas County, Kentucky, prepares its financial statements on a prescribed basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the cash basis and laws of Kentucky. Consequently, certain revenues and the related assets are recognized when received rather than when earned, and certain expenses are recognized when paid rather than when a liability is incurred. The basis accounting system does not require an entry to maintain a general fixed asset group or a general long-term debt group of accounts. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements are not intended to present financial position and results of operations in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities, and fund balances arising from cash transactions of Nicholas County, Kentucky, and the related statement of cash receipts, cash disbursements, and changes in cash balances as of and for the year ended June 30, 1997, in conformity with the cash basis of accounting described above.

We conducted this audit for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements of Nicholas County, Kentucky, taken as a whole. The accompanying information, provided on Schedules A through D, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. This information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Based on the results of our audit, we present a Schedule of Comments and Recommendations, included herein, which discusses the following area of noncompliance.

- The County Should Require Depository Institutions To Pledge Sufficient Securities As Collateral To Protect Deposits

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we issued a report dated March 3, 1998, on our consideration of Nicholas County, Kentucky's, internal control structure and compliance with laws and regulations.

Respectfully submitted,

Edward B. Hatchett, Jr.
Auditor of Public Accounts

KSP celebrates 25th anniversary

The Kentucky State Police are celebrating their 50th anniversary.

As a way to show the many services and changes that have come about in 50 years and to "...emphasize our 50 years of service to the citizens of the Commonwealth," the KSP has released a photo caption of "then and now."

Costa Rica and El Salvador are the two countries that have coins that were named for Christopher Columbus. The coins are called colons. Colon was Columbus' name in Spanish.

The map of Kentucky has changed and so has the Kentucky State Police

But, one thing remains the same...

our service to the citizens of the Commonwealth.
