Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
A 1920 classmate of mine, William Schwann, who graduated from Carlisle High School in 1930, sent me this picture which he had taken for The Carlisle Mercury.

William and I were in the school when his father, Rev. Schwann, was pastor of the Christian Church in Carlisle from 1927-1930.

The only one I recognize is the late Mary Frances Fisher, who was the church organist.

If you are interested in the picture, maybe a few members of the church might enjoy it in your name. Let your County Judge Executive know you do not wish the blood of innocent and helpless ones on your hands.

Sincerely,
Halley Griffin

Dear Editor:
This year marks the 61st celebration of June Dairy Month, a time to salute our dairy farm families and recognize the important role milk and milk products play in the health and quality of life in our state.

The theme for June Dairy Month 1998 is "MILK Where's Your Matchahe". The theme ties in with the popular series of milk matchahe advertisements, designed to remind consumers to drink a glass of milk and to be proud to spot their milk mustache.

We appreciate your recognition of June Dairy Month and your support of our state's dairy farm families.

Sincerely,
Eric McClain, News Area Manager, Pat Wollin, Program Coordinator, TK and Kathy Belcher, Program Coordinator, MD, KY, IN, VA.

Osteoporosis is a major health risk for both men and women

Osteoporosis is a major public health threat for about 25 million Americans - 80 percent of whom are women. It is estimated that one out of every two women already has the disease and another 17 million women are at risk of developing it. Osteoporosis is a complex disease and not all of its causes are known.

These cameras are another step we are taking to stop illegal dumping. I am commending Dickford, secretary of the National Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet.

The cabinet is using several surveillance cameras at active illegal dump sites across the state. There can be no question as to who is responsible for the trash since it is recorded on videotape.

The cameras are motion-activated, meaning they begin recording when sensors detect motion in a specific area. The cameras, usually hidden in the brush, are powered by battery batteries and can record up to a week's activities.

The staff of The Carlisle Mercury would like to express their heartfelt thanks to the many students and faculty members of Nicholas County High School for the production of the production of the Senior Salute published in the May 28 edition of the paper.

As editor, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Shannon Myers, a senior who produced with this year's salute, for her patience and kindness in allowing us to use the photographs and various material she had collected. Over 100 graduates of the Carlisle Mercury wish each of the graduates the best in their new ventures in their new lives.

Congratulations!!!
