Methodist Men clean church

Dear Editor,
On May 18, approximately 100 men from Nicholas and Harrison Counties gathered at the Methodist Church (or Parish Church) near Myers road and cleaned the church yard of weeds, bushes, etc. It is hoped that continued volunteers from the community around here will continue to keep the graveyard in this improved condition.

I feel sure there are many members of local churches who would like to find time to keep the graveyard clean in memory of them.

A current problem that needs immediate attention is the numerous amounts of leaves that have accumulated on the grounds.

If you would like to volunteer to help clear this place of history from the debris that is carried there by the wind, please contact either James Lawrence or James J. Cymbaluk, Jr. at 230 p.m. at the old army in Carlisle.

MY PERSONAL THOUGHTS
God's The Judge
By Mary Dobbin Fort Smith, AR

Yes, a dear one has been taken, by the One who gave us life.
For He thought it would be better just to end his pain and strife.
When we see our loved ones lying all so calm And oh, so still.
Then our heart cries out to Jesus, oh we hope That all is well.
Much too often those around us are quick to Judge, and set apart. But I'm glad, and oh so Thankful, only God can judge a heart.

Soap as a body cleanser was first developed by the Phoenicians in 600 B.C.
The people blended wood ash with goat's fat.
In the early days it was considered an insult to give a gift of soap to another person.
During the Middle Ages Europeans were afraid to use soap or take a bath. They feared they would become ill or even die if they bathed more than once a year!

STORIES FROM READERS

April Showers In The Everglades
By Jack
April showers bring May flowers right into the Everglades. Pink, purple, red, blue. What else? I don't have a clue. Maybe orange, maybe black, I don't know - I am not on track. Help me, please! Don't let me fade. I don't want to go down to the Everglades. Wait! I forgot they're cutting down trees. Help me stop those machines. Help me, my home that I thought was a dome, is being destroyed! SAVE MY HOME IN THE EVERGLADES!
