BRINGING OUT THE DEAD

Your Horoscope by Natasha

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Set the mood for a romantic evening. It could be love letters that you write from your heart or a chance encounter that makes you all elated. Your intuition is the best guide.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) The past could push its way into the present, and the results might leave you feeling a little haunted. Look beyond the surface for the message that can truly alter the path that you are pursuing.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20) Your feelings be known even if it involves making a bit of a fool of yourself. Know that ridicule only comes because others wish they had enough nerve to follow in your footsteps.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22) Your domestic front pulls you in so that you have the opportunity to sit on the front porch and watch the world go by. It is in your best interest to jump back in an appropriate spot.

Leo (July 23 to August 22) You might find that someone else thought was an equal opponent has been moved up to a higher weight class. Avoid entering the ring when there is this unfair advantage.

Virgo (August 23 to September 22) Set your positive, optimistic aside unless you want to engage in a debate that tries to define the lines between what is and isn't yours. There is no need to take your ball and go home in the middle of the game.

Libra (September 23 to October 22) The current that is rushing under your surface fills you with a new sense of vitality. Taking on the world might be a little strong, but pick a path and go in there.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21) Be wary of getting tangled between a rock and a hard place. Some things are not as malleable as they first appear.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21) The crazier the circumstances that cross your path the better. They initially might catch you off guard, but your backup system kicks into gear just in time to achieve success.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 19) You may feel as if you have entered into a stalemate race as obstacles continue to pop up in your path. Make your strides long and plan your steps accordingly.

Aquarius (January 20 to February 18) The fact that you are dependable does not mean that you are always predictable. Play with the energy you contain within, and apply it in ways that might surprise people.

Pisces (February 19 to March 20) There is a beauty in something that someone else has discarded, but you are thinking twice. You have the ability to give it new definition and to breathe it back to life.

You Born This Week: The risk involved only makes things more appealing to you in any pursuit of which you are a part. Luck poles through your veins, and your heart knows just where to draw the line when too much pressure becomes a factor. You are a competitor whom anyone envies having on their team.

N.C.H.S. FFA members attend National Convention

Over 49,000 FFA members and guests from across the nation are preparing to leave their "Signature of Success" on ship development workshops. The 72nd National FFA Convention, October 27-30, will be held in Louisville, Kentucky. The Nicholas County FFA Chapter will join fellow members from all 60 states: Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands to develop personal leadership, personal growth and career success. "Signature of Success" symbolizes the agricultural education organization's desire to have a positive position impression on their communities and the agriculture industry.

FFA is a national organization of 450,752 members preparing for leadership and careers in the science, business and technology of agriculture. The organization has 7,503 chapters located throughout the United States. Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands. FFA's mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education. Local, state and national activities and awards programs provide opportunities for students to apply knowledge and skills learned in the classroom.

This will be the first convention held in Louisville, Kentucky. For the last 71 years, the national convention was held in Kansas City, Mo. FFA made the decision to move from Missouri to Kentucky due to the quality and size of facilities in Louisville. Over $300,000 has been given by sponsors to make the transition from Kansas City to Louisville as smooth as possible.

New features at this year's convention include a fireworks extravaganza, a nation-wide food drive, and an agriculture ambassador program that places local 4th graders with FFA members teaching about the food and fiber industry and natural resources. Members will also have the chance to hear from speaker Dave Rowley, and motivational humorist Emory Austin.

Members will compete in career development events, be

Patton unveils new license plate

"We redesigned the plate in recognition of the FFA moving their national convention to Kentucky and to honor our future leaders in Kentucky and around the nation. We also included the 4-H logo to honor that great organization as well," Governor Patton said as he addressed members of the organization at their national convention at Freedom Hall on Thursday. "We chose to unveil this new plate here today to show you that we're happy to have you here, and we look forward to all the future national FFA conventions," the governor added. The FFA has selected Louisville as the site for its national convention for the next six years.

Governor Paul Patton unveils the new license plate which is dedicated to Future Farmers at the FFA National Convention in Louisville.

The new license plate will cost $15 and will be used on farm trucks up to 35,000 pounds. There are about 160,000 such trucks in Kentucky. The plate will go on sale the 1st of March in each County Clerk's office.

In his address to the group, Governor Patton said that organizations like FFA play a role that can't be duplicated. "The experience, the friendships, the appreciation of a hard work, the determination of our future leaders, these are all parts of FFA experience that are unique to your organization, and they represent great assets for the rest of us."
