Deer could be hazardous for motorist

Deer run, or mating season, is now peaking in Kentucky. During October and November, the drive to mate induces deer behavior. This can cause hazards for Kentucky's motorists.

Following are some tips to help reduce the chances of having a deer-vehicle accident. Slow down and watch for a deer when driving through a wooded area or where deer crossing signs are posted.

Drive cautiously during evening-and-early-morning hours when deer are seeking food and water.

The Oscar for Best Title Writing was given only once—in 1928—before it fell victim to the talkies. The winner was Joseph Farnow, for his work on two MGM films, The Fair Co-ed and Laugh, Clown, Laugh.

Residents at JMNH attend gospel festival in September

Johnson Mathers Nursing Home residents have been going out a lot more lately. Their most recent outing was a Saturday afternoon at the Nicholas County Elementary School where they attended the annual Nicholas County Gospel Festival.

The festival, sponsored by the Nicholas County Cancer Coalition and Whitaker Bank in Carlisle, featured a very successful afternoon of gospel music.

In addition to Doc's Ology, residents heard performances from Billy and Donna Dixon and the New Found Four from Mt. Sterling.

A special area had been reserved at the school to accommodate residents wanting to attend. Thanks to Ramona Barber and the help of two family volunteers, Jean Darrell and Joyce Booth, seven residents were able to go out for the day.

Edna Hamilton, Alma Clinkensbeary, Edna Huddleston, Mae Galbraith, Patsy Beatty, Armida Crump and Old Day all descended on the gospel festival.

Flu season is just around the corner. In addition, there has been reported to have already occurred in Alaska and in Kentucky health officials are encouraging flu vaccinations, especially those more than 65 years old.

Most health departments have a flu shot available. In addition, there are immunization clinics available which should help older Kentuckians.

People younger than 18 years who get a flu shot should not take aspirin while sick because of the risk of Reye's syndrome.

People with chronic heart, lung, or kidney disease or diabetes as well as all nursing home residents should have a flu shot.

People with chronic medical conditions, definitely should have a flu shot, says Kent State Epidemiologist Glyn Caldwell, M.D., with the Department of Public Health.
