Did You Know?

(NAPS)—Troops with the National Guards 219th Quartermaster Detachment based at Fort Allen, Puerto Rico, along with citizen-soldiers from the 102nd Support Battalion based in Guairabo, Puerto Rico, helped hundreds of thousands of people left homeless after torrential rains in Venezuela caused flooding and landslides. "Many people are told that nothing can be done about catsarcts and that they are a natural effect of the aging process," says Robert Abel, Jr., M.D., advisory board member of the Latent Information Bureau. "But research now shows that dietary changes, including consumption of lutein, may have a significant impact on risk reduction."

A New PAGE In Kentucky Politics

Education...we take it personally. As the mother of a 15 year old Bourbon Co. High School student and an active member of the Georgetown College foundation board, I take the quality of education here in Central Kentucky very personally.

As your representative I will support:

- Safe Schools
- Disruptive students should be removed from the classroom. Addressing their problems in alternative programs will benefit all students and teachers.
- Increased funding for teachers

If we don't pay our teachers commensurate with the private sector, we will lose our brightest and best.
