Mt. Sterling man wins $1,000 a week

James Bramel, of Mt. Sterling, Kentucky now has a reason to take good care of himself and live a long, prosperous life. That's because he claimed a Lifetime Riches scratch-off ticket today worth $1,000 a week for the rest of his life! Bramel says he purchased his winning ticket yesterday when he went to get the Sunday newspaper. Upon realizing he was a grand prize winner, Bramel says he felt very nervous and could hardly talk. "My wife told me to take a seat and calm down," says Bramel. "I was in shock when I saw that grand prize symbol. I just couldn't believe it!" Bramel says he is close to retirement and the money will definitely help things out. He currently works at Toyota and he is planning to retire in five years. Bramel says he decided to take a day or two off work to claim his prize and celebrate. He says he will pay some bills, share some with his grown son and daughter, and save the rest for his retirement. Bramel is the first Lifetime Riches grand prize winner. The game also offers prizes ranging from $5 to $100. The overall odds of winning a prize in the game are 1 in 3.03 and the percentage of payout is 72.63%.
